Rescue Teams Hunt In Vain For Airliner

Hope for Lives of 11 Aboard Missing Plane Virtually Abandoned.

BULLETIN

BURBANK, Calif.—(AP)—Hope for finding alive the 11 persons aboard a missing Western Air Lines plane was virtually abandoned today.

BURBANK, Calif.—(UP)—Ground and air rescue teams searched snow-covered foothills near here today for a clue to the fate of a Western Air Lines transport carrying 11 persons which vanished early yesterday in a blinding rainstorm.

A day-long search by land and air was called off at nightfall. The search was resumed at daybreak by a ground force equipped with walkie-talkies and a motor fleet carrying medical supplies, food and stretchers.

The last report from the ship came before dawn Wednesday when the pilot, three minutes from a safe landing at Lockheed terminal, reported he was encountering storm flurries and was told to land at municipal airport, across town and near the ocean.

WAL officials feared the transport might have been engulfed in a sudden squall after acknowledging the order, and that it might have crashed against the mountains which loom perilously close to the San Fernando valley terminal. They admitted they were baffled by the disappearance less than five minutes from populous Los Angeles and Hollywood.

Airline officials discounted the possibility the plane could have crashed into the ocean. They said the pilot was too familiar with the region to have missed municipal airport by so far.

Made No Contact.

They also pointed out that he undoubtedly would have made another radio contact if he had stayed aloft long enough to have reached the ocean. Flying time from Burbank to municipal airport is 12 minutes.

Two county road employes operating a snowplow on a mountain highway reported seeing a huge flash during the storm but could not say definitely whether it was the result of an explosion on the mountain slopes or lightning.

The two-engined DC-3, on a flight from Salt Lake City, was flown by Senior Pilot Garrel J. Miller, 34, Van Nuys, with Ted Mathis,. 25, Whittier, co-pilot, and Joan Fauntleroy, 22, Los Angeles, stewardess

Passengers were Mrs. Florence Henry, Long Beach, Cal.; Mrs. Bridget W. W. Knight, Banff, Alberta, Can.; Mary La Branch, Edmonton, Alberta, Can.; J. S. Berry. 28, bartender, Butte, Mont.; Dr. S. G. Schaeffer, 58, dentist, Beverly Hills, Calif ; W. B Davis, 38, mining engineer, West Los Angeles; A. F. Rice, 52, sales executive, Los Angeles, Mary Burns, Las Vegas, Nev

FOUR RED CROSS ROAD STATIONS TO AID INJURED

Chapter Moves to Cut Down Toll of Auto Mishaps.

Plans to set up four Red Cross first aid stations on heavily traveled Richland county highways were disclosed today by W. J. Robbins, chairman of the county chapter's first aid committee.

The stations would be one of the first important postwar projects of the Red Cross in its fight to cut down the death toll from highway accidents.

Plans have been completed for two of the stations.

One will be set up at the intersection of Ohio Route 181 and U. S. Route 30 South. It will be operated by Harry and Ralph B. Stahl, proprietors of the Midway Gas station at that point.

The second station will be in charge of Fred Patterson at the intersection of Ohio Route 314 and U. S. Route 30 N.

The three men are now taking the first aid course under the direction of the Red Cross committee and will be ready to begin operating by December 1.

A third station is planned somewhere on the Ashland road and the fourth on Ohio Route 13, south of Mansfield.

"These particular spots have been selected because of the great number of accidents which occur at these locations," Robbins declared. "We feel that the mere fact there is a sign announcing first aid emergency will remind drivers that these spots are strategic ones for travelers and may eventually we hope cut down on accidents at these locations."

Before the war, a number of such first aid stations were operated throughout the county During the war trained personnel was lacking to continue them.

SMALL NATIONS ATTACK 'VETO'

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(UP)—The small and medium-sized countries in the United Nations brought their fight against the big five's veto power to a white heat today — fully aware that they couldn't eliminate the veto, but hopeful of causing the big powers to use it less frequently.

As they levelled verbal guns at the big five, the anti-veto forces knew they lacked the power to push through the UN general assembly, then the security council, any proposal to amend the UN charter's voting formula.

The western powers and Russia are as firmly allied in defense of the formula as they are at odds over most of the other big issues of the current assembly session.

But the smaller countries had a more practical objective: The possibility that the "battle of the veto in the assembly's political and security committee would cause the big powers voluntarily to soften the impact of the veto on operations of the world organization.

Meanwhile, in the assembly's embattled trusteeships committee the United States was preparing to announce its refusal to support the proposal of the union of South Africa that it be allowed to annex its south west Africa mandate.

The American stand, contrasting with Britain's support of the violently-condemned annexation proposal, was certain to make clear what already has considered to be the eventual outcome of south Africa's move: The assembly will reject it overwhelmingly.

TRAIN KILLS MOTORIST

AKRON —(AP)— A Pennsylvania railroad passenger train struck an automobile yesterday killing Carland Ramsey, 30.

SHERIFF CALLED IN LIQUOR CASE

Two more Richland countians, one of them Sheriff Frank E Robinson, were under subpoena today by the state board of liquor control to testify in that agency's hearing on charges of selling liquor to a minor against the Big Three Beer company, 120-122 North Main street.

The charges, filed specifically against Harry R. Roth and Irvin H. Munster, doing business as the Big Three Beer company, were brought after a waitress allegedly sold beer to a 17-year-old boy last August.

The youth, charged with being a delinquent, was placed on probation for one year by the Richland county juvenile court. The waitress, Helen Sawyer, 117½ North Main street, escaped a court penalty when the jury which heard contributing-to-delinquency charges failed to agree on a verdict.

Sheriff Robinson was subpoenaed to testify, as was the youth who lives at a Perrysville, R. D. 2 address. Yesterday Lieut. Clare W. Kyler of the Mansfield police department, the arresting officer in the case, said he had been subpoenaed for the board hearing in Columbus Nov. 27.

Penalties for the alleged violation could be revocation or suspension of the company's three liquor licenses.

Truman Rests To Get Ready For Struggle

President Plans Week's Trip to Southern Florida.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The White House announced today that President Truman will fly to southern Florida Sunday for a week of fishing and rest.

Basking in the sun in and around Key West, Mr. Truman will fortify his health for this winter's legislative struggle in which his administration is confronted by a Republican-controlled congress.

The president leaves Washington tomorrow aboard the yacht Williamsburg for a cruise to Annapolis for the Navy-Penn State football game. and is to return to the White House Saturday night.

He is scheduled to depart for Key West Sunday morning.

The trip will mark Mr. Truman's second vacation of the year and will again take him to a semi-tropical clime. In August, he found rest and relaxation in Bermuda.

The chief executive is to fly directly to Key West and is expected to land around 3 p. m. at the Naval Air station there, a huge wartime installation

GREEKS IN FIGHT

LONDON —(UP)— An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Athens said today that a group of "bandits," 1.000 strong, had fought a battle with a company of Greek troops along the Greek-Yugoslav frontier in which two and possibly four Greek officers were killed.

HUNTERS TAKE FIELD FRIDAY IN HUGE FORCE

Record Number of Licenses Sold in County For Season Opening.

Tomorrow at noon is "D" day for pheasants and rabbits throughout Ohio and Richland county nimrods in unprecedented numbers will tuck the old scattergun under their arms and take to the fields.

On opening day tomorrow the legal hours for hunting are from 12 noon to 5:30 p. m. Thereafter the legal hours are 7:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Pheasant season closes on Nov. 30 while rabbits may be hunted until the last day of the year.

The Richland County Fish and Game Protective association reported that between 3,800 and 3,900 licenses had been distributed to 39 small establishments that could not afford the expense of the required bond to handle the sale of licenses direct from the State Conservation Department.

This was an increase of from 1,500 to 1,800 more than last year, an official said.

Yuncker Brothers Sporting goods store reported 100 more licenses sold this year than last. It handles licenses separately from those distributed by the Fish and Game Protective association as also do Goetz hardware store and Schmutzlers bar and cafe both of which likewise reported sales up from last year.

Fair Home Crop

Many Mansfield and Richland county hunters journey into northwestern Ohio to hunt pheasants on the openin day, but those who tramp the home fields should find good hunting

C. I. Kimmel, county game protector, reports a fair but spotty crop of both pheasants and rabbits. For obvious reasons he will not divulge the good and poor areas.

He warned that no hunter may have more than two pheasants and four rabbits in his possession at one time.

Between 1,500 and 1,600 pheasants were distributed in the county last summer. The Fish and Game Protective association said 1,000 of these birds were released in August after being raised to the proper age by inmates at the Mansfield reformatory.

68,802 In State.

The Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources reports that 68,802 pheasants were released throughout Ohio in time for fall shooting. This figure exceeded all previous years and surpassed the number released last year by 20,000.

The Conservation Department has estimated that 750,000 hunting licenses will be sold in Ohio this year.

Mansfield hardware and sporting goods stores report a fair amount of 12 gauge shotgun shells available but say there is a shortage of 16, 20, and 410 gauge shells and in hunting logs and equipment of all kinds

VOTES TO CLOSE VETS' CENTER

Closing of the Mansfield Veterans' Information center Dec. 31 for want of patronage was recommended yesterday afternoon by the executive committee of the center which accepted the resignation of William R Allen as director

Allen submitted his resignation yesterday, asking that it be made effective immediately.

Spokesmen for the committee said the center had served its purpose because there has been a marked decline in the number of calls and other sources of information for veterans have been made available since the center was opened in October, 1945

Mrs. Mary Helen Nixon, secretary of the center, will operate the office through next month with the cooperation of the various veterans and civic organizations, the committee said.

VETS STUDYING

COLUMBUS—(UP)—World War II veterans attending Ohio educational institutions under the G. I. Bill and Public Law 16, for disabled veterans, came to 63,128 as of Nov. 1, it was reported today by George R Brown, jr., director of the VA vocational branch office here.

60-Day 'Truce' Sought To Avoid Coal Strike

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The government today was reported seeking a 60-day "truce" in the nation's strike-threatened soft coal fields while John L. Lewis and the mine owners negotiate a contract to speed release of the federally operated pits.

Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug planned to meet the United Mine Workers' chief again today after two highly secret conferences yesterday.

Tomorrow, Lewis may serve notice he intends to terminate the government contract in five days. Almost inevitably, this would lead to a walkout of his 400 000 soft coal diggers on Nov. 20 since the miners do not work without a contract.

While Lewis kept silent, the operators told Krug they were willing to meet with the miners' boss in an effort to avoid a crippling new strike.

Krug was reported by one operator to be seeking a commitment from Lewis to keep the miners working—say for a 60-day period—until agreement can be reached on a private contract that would permit early return of the mines to the operators.

The owners have been serving as mine managers since the government seized the pits in last spring's 59-day strike. Efforts by the operators and miners to come to terms failed at that time. After the government stepping in, Krug made a contract with Lewis which ended the shutdown. Lewis contends the government breached the agreement by "misinterpretations" of vacation pay provisions and other matters.

Furthermore, Lewis said, there had been changes in government wage policy—hinting at new wage and hour demands. He has not yet made those demands known.

Krug held brief sessions with five leading operators and with Lewis' group yesterday. The outlook appeared gloomy. As the miners filed out of the conference with Krug they were unusually grim.

In less than an hour, Lewis was back in Krug's office alone for an unannounced chat. He appeared in high spirits as he left that time.

Writers Fight Jim Crow Laws

WASHINGTON —(UP)— Thirty-three well known playwrights, composers and lyricists today threatened to boycott Washington theaters unless "Jim Crow" practices are ended.

They said they would not permit their productions to play here if racial discrimination "on either side of the footlights" continues.

Mrs. America Title Won by Mother of 4

Ohio Woman Receives $2,500 First Prize Award.

JACKSON, Miss. — (UP) — Mrs. Janice Pollock, lovely brown-haired, brown-eyed mother of four children held Mrs. America honors for 1946 today thanks to her husband who had prodded her into entering the contest.

Mrs. Pollock, who hails from Columbus, O., was wearing her "old black dinner dress" when four judges came out of a huddle and pointed a lucky finger at her.

Runners up in the annual contest were red-haired Fredda Aker of Anderson, S. C., and Mrs. Donna Vestelle, willowy blonde widow of a marine killed overseas. She was billed as "Mrs. New York," although her home was originally in Fairbury, Neb.

Mrs. Pollock waited until newsreel cameras whirred and newspaper photographers took their shots before confessing that she owed it all to her husband Mark of the Burns Cuboid Co., of Columbus.

"He had insisted that I submit a photograph and wear this dress," she said

Mrs Pollock is 24 years old. She came here without any fancy clothes. Her honor-winning measurements were given as follows:

Height, 5 feet, 6½ inches; weight, 128 pounds; waist, 25½ inches, Bust 34½ inches; hips, 35½ inches.

Winner of the $2,500 first prize Mrs. Pollock said that she wasn't interested in making any money-spending plans until she consults with her husband.

"After all," she said, "I owe it all to him."

Landlubber Mansfield Will Turn 'Sea-Going' Com

By JOHN MINE

Mansfield, some 500 miles from the nearest ocean, is going to be about as "sea-going" as any inland city can be, come next July.

It's then that a $300.000 naval armory will be ready for its "shake-down cruise" and begin training 285 men and 23 officers for sea duty in time of war.

Into a $100,000, triple-quonset structure will go some $200,000 worth of special electronics and shipboard equipment. The armory is to be located on city property on Ashland road. Construction begins in March.

Says Lt. Comdr. A. E. Heiser, who will be busy recruiting men for the reserve units between now and July, Mansfield's naval armory will be one of seven "Class A" reserve training centers in Ohio. All costs will be borne by the navy.

'Twill Have a "Mess."

It'll have a radio and "sonar" (underwater sounding) equipment. a boiler room and switchboard similar to that on destroyers, a complete damage-control "mock-up," metal work and marine repair shops and a large drill center.

In addition, there'll be a "mess" (eating place to you land-lubbers), showers and recreation rooms among its other facilities.

The 154 by 125-foot armory will be the training center for two types of units. One will consist of 200 men and 13 officers and will be known as a "ready reserve" unit.

The second will be "volunteer reserve" units and consist of one electronics warfare company of five officers and 40 men, plus five platoons of one officer and nine men each.

Men to Be Paid.

The "ready reserve" will be the most extensively trained and will receive instruction on a schedule. Its men will be paid.

The "volunteer reserve" will be trained on a come-when-you-want-to basis and will receive no pay, according to Comdr. Heiser.

Mansfield's ready reserve will be known as "Division 195." It will include one lieutenant commander, three lieutenants, nine lieutenants (jg) or ensigns in its officer corps.

TRIPLE-A ASKS ACREAGE DATA

Richland county farmers who have federal insurance on their 1947 winter wheat crop today were asked to report the amount of seeded acreage to the Triple-A office 55 North Diamond street.

"To determine the amount of insurance and premium for each contract, it is necessary that we know the number of acres of wheat seeded under Federal all-risk crop insurance", Guy L. Taylor, county AAA chairman, said.

Two hundred and 53 farmers in Richland county have insured their wheat crop for 1947 with Federal crop insurance, the Triple-A committee chairman said.

The insurance offers protection against loss of the farmers investment from all unavoidable natural hazards. Federal all-risk insurance on the 1947 wheat crop is still available at the Triple-A office, Taylor explained.

Farmers who suffered a loss on their 1946 wheat crop and who had insurance on the crop should notify the Triple-A office to facilitate arrangements for an adjustor's inspection, Taylor said.

Prompt reporting of losses permits a more satisfactory and speedier settlement of the loss claim, he added.

U. S. TO PAY EXPENSES OF JOB AGENCY

Few Changes in Procedure Planned By State in Employment Service.

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — Federal procedures will be continued in the Ohio employment service, taken over as part of the war-time uses, and the national government will continue to pay the bills when the agency is returned to the state on Saturday.

Thirteen-hundred federal employes will be affected by the transfer and salaries paid by the federal government will be based upon existing Ohio civil service wage classifications.

The state, which previous to federal seizure of the agency contribute on a matching basis to pay employment service costs, will not be required to finance the state employment service until July, 1948.

Charles H. Jones, state unemployment compensation bureau director, will direct the operation of the employment agency when it is returned to Ohio.

Jones said that "only such changes will be made as our operations may later dictate. Transfer of the agency was made mandatory by congress in its last session.

The BUC director indicated that approximately 800 of the 1,300 persons who will become state employes after the transfer will be required to qualify under the state civil service act as soon as an examination program can be set up.

Of the employes, 500 were with the state employment service when it was taken over as a war-time agency.

These 500 employes will be retained at their present positions since they are qualified under civil service requirements while the other employes will hold provisional jobs until certified by the civil service examiners.

State officials will have to settle the question of salaries, which in many cases will be below that paid the employes by the federal government, and also that of sick and vacation leaves for which the federal employes were qualified.

"It will be the aim of the bureau to enlist the support and confidence of labor, industry and the people generally to make the Ohio employment service workable," Jones said.

The employment service will continue its efforts to register job openings and to register and refer workers to suitable positions, according to Jones.

The BUC handles only payments of jobless compensation to Ohioans who are qualified and fit for work but unemployed.

Grange Leader Urges Action To Overcome New Depression

PORTLAND, Ore.—(INS)—A National Grange leader was on record today with a demand for a meeting of the nation's top-flight leaders in farm, business and labor organizations to forestall a new depression.

The speaker, Ohio Grange Master Joseph W. Fichter of Columbus, made his proposal to the national convention of the farm organization in Portland.

Fichter warned that fear of a new war and of an American depression is hampering the work of peace-makers and declared:

"For the sake of peace in the world and in the interest of our internal security we cannot risk a depression in this country."

The Grange leader said "the nationally organized groups of agriculture, labor and management can prevent catastrophe if their representatives, about 50 in number, will meet in conference.

Fihter forecast that "if agriculture, labor and management each continues to go its own way and out-pressure the others, all will lose. In such a situation the harvst will be ripe for Fascism or Communism."

Try and Stop Me

A favorite food of the Hawaiians is called "poi." It is prepared, says the dictionary, from the taro root, whatever that is, pounded to a paste and allowed to ferment.

At any rate, a tourist in a newly-opened Honolulu hash house demanded a portion of this poi as an experiment. "What kind would you be wanting?" asked the waiter.

"What kind would you be having?" replied the tourist.

"Let's see," said the waiter, counting on his fingers. "We got apple, lemon, huckleberry, an' peach."

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, Nov. 15.

Although affairs may continue under high pressure and excitement, yet there may be a slowing down of the tempo, with a sudden turn holding up progress or diverting into channels outside the current of desired patterns. There may be explanations or complications perhaps incident to either over optimism, false promises, or a program of extravagance of waste. This might alienate those in influential places or possibly in home relations. A thrifty, careful and well-considered course of action might avert loss.

Those whose birthday it is may run into a year in which their cherished hopes and plans might be held up by a tendency to overacting, false aims and wishes, exaggerated zeal, extravagance or excess. Such conduct might build up a false front, calling for explanations or reorganization of plans. Reactions of unhappy nature might have bearing on domestic, social or affectional associations, unless candor and extreme finesse by used.

A child born on this day, while active and talented, is likely to be carried to extremes by prodigality, over-acting or slim promises, affecting its relations with those in influence.

REVEALS SLASH IN ARMY, NAVY

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Rep. Cole of New York, ranking Republican member of the House Naval Affairs committee, reported today that the administration plans drastic reductions of 20 to 37 per cent in army and navy expenditures.

Cole, next in line for the committee chairmanship when the Republicans take over control of congress Jan. 3, said Secretary of the Navy Forrestal had revealed that the navy planned to reduce its budget to approximately four billion dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1947.

This would represent a 20 per cent slash in existing expenditures, estimated at about five million dollars for the current fiscal year.

Cole told a reporter that he understood that army expenditures would be cut to five or six billion dollars, compared to thhe eight billion dollars now being spent, or a reduction of 25 to 37 per cent.

$16,500 Awarded In Accident Case

ASHLAND—An award of $16,500 in favor of the estate of the late Samuel Thomas, member of the Akron police department who was fatally injured in an auto accident by an Ashland county common pleas jury.

Defendant in the suit is Rose Pikula of Bobstown, Pa., whose car figured in the collision which caused Thomas' death. The verdict concluded the $25,000 damage suit filed by Mrs. Jessie Thomas, widow of the late Akron police department member.

SERVICE IMPROVED

A new restaurant service has been provided at the Greystone night club where noon and evening meals are available. Albert Howard, formerly with the Neil House in Columbus, is the chef. The club's kitchen has been remodeled and facilities provided for improving the restaurant service, Manager Willis Wappner said.

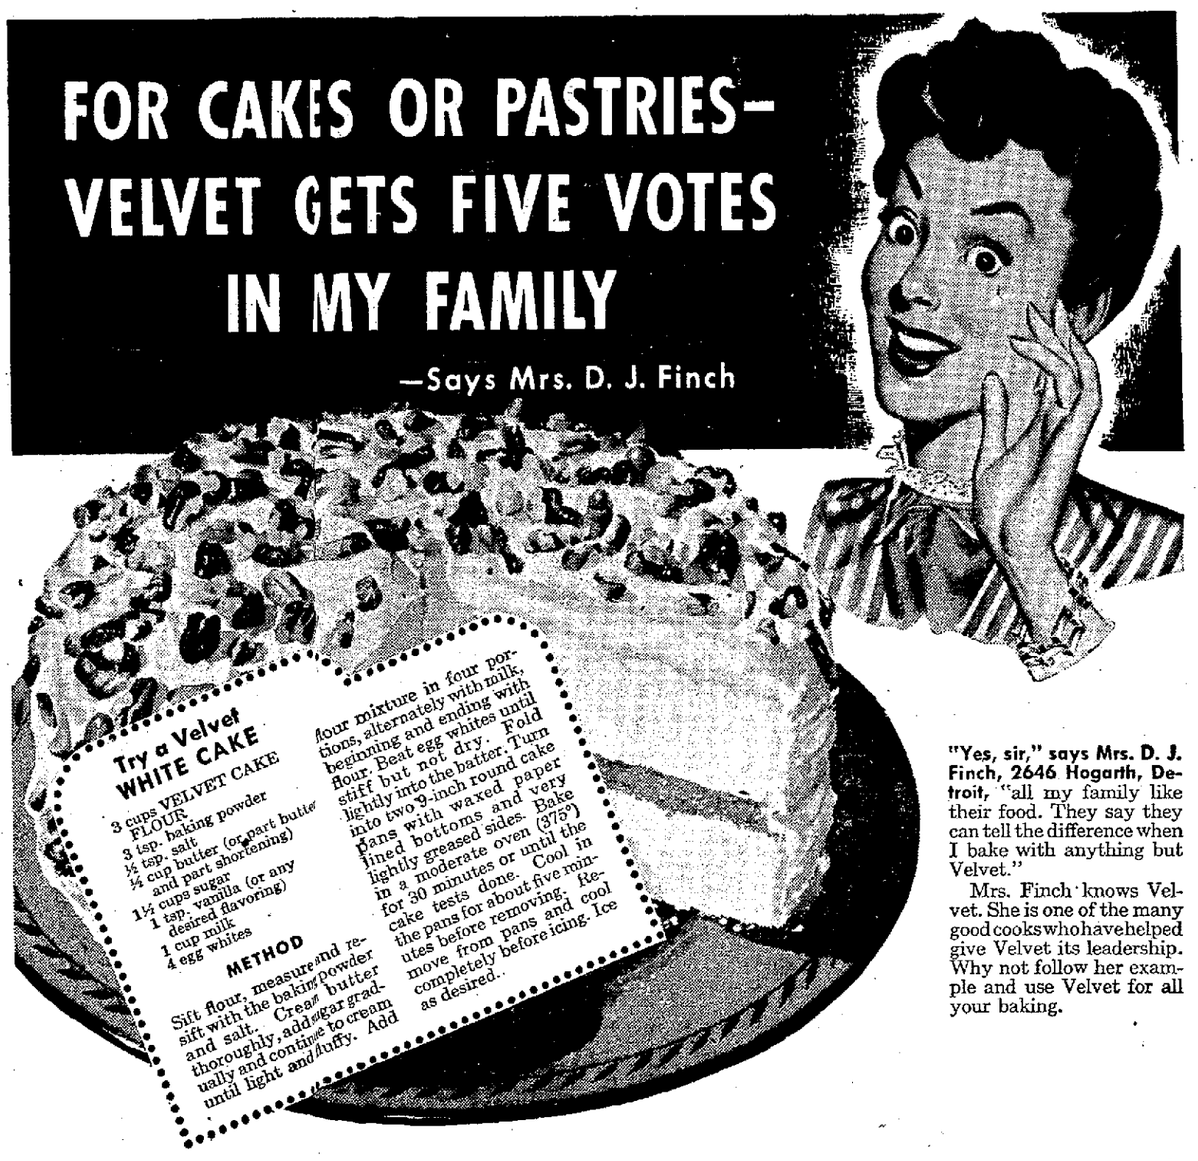
FOR CAKES OR PASTRIES— VELVET GETS FIVE VOTES IN MY FAMILY

—Says Mrs. D. J. Finch



Try a Velvet WHITE CAKE
3 cups VELVET CAKE FLOUR
3 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
½ cup butter (or part butter and part shortening)
1½ cups sugar
1 tsp. vanilla (or any desired flavoring)
1 cup milk
4 egg whites
METHOD
Sift flour, measure and resift with the baking powder and salt. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually and continue to cream until light and fluffy. Add four mixture in four portions, alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold lightly into the batter. Turn into two 9-inch round cake pans with waxed paper lined bottoms and very lightly greased sides. Bake in a moderate oven (375°) for 30 minutes or until the cake tests done. Cool in the pans for about five minutes before removing. Remove from pans and cool completely before icing. Ice as desired.

"Yes, sir," says Mrs. D. J. Finch, 2646 Hogarth, Detroit, "all my family like their food. They say they can tell the difference when I bake with anything but Velvet."

Mrs. Finch knows Velvet. She is one of the many good cooks who have helped give Velvet its leadership. Why not follow her example and use Velvet for all your baking.

WHERE VELVET IS BEST KNOWN

Women Buy More VELVET Than Any Other Cake Flour

Actual survey shows Velvet ahead of all other cake flours

An amazing independent survey actually showed that where Velvet is best known women buy more Velvet than any other cake flour. That shows what women think of Velvet.

There's a reason for this. They say they get the best results when they use Velvet. The tenderest, flakiest pastry—the fluffiest, lightest cakes—that's what every woman wants, and Henkel's Velvet Cake Flour can help you to get them.

Velvet is such a wonderful flour because its quality is carefully controlled. It's uniform—every bag just the way it should be.

Just try this great flour and see if you're not like thousands of other good cooks who get such wonderful results with Velvet that they never want to use any other flour.

Plans Parsonage 25 Stories Up

CHICAGO — (UP) — Dr. Charles Ray Goff will become a penthouse parson when his Methodist parsonage 25 stories above the Loop is finished about a year from now.

Blueprints have been drawn for a five-room parsonage for Goff and his wife on the 25th and 26th floors of the Chicago Temple (First Methodist church) in downtown Chicago. They will live right beneath the chimes that ring out above traffic's din. And above the chimes, which have been ringing for years, a small chapel will be built.

WHAT DO YOU WANT, RIGGER?
MY OFFER "TO BUY NICODEMUS STILL HOLDS GOOD
I'LL BET IT DOES AFTER THE WORK-OUT YOU JUST SAW
IT ISN'T THAT I JUST WANT HIM BACK OUT OF SENTIMENT.
YOU'RE NOT THE TYPE TO SPEND $500 ON SENTIMENT
THEN YOU'D BETTER GRAB MY OFFER BEFORE I CHANGE MY MIND
WHY SHOULD I? NICODEMUS WILL BE WORTH A LOT MORE AFTER THE BIG RACE
MARK MY WORDS, NEBB... YOU WON'T BE ABLE TO GIVE HIM AWAY!

Bedtime Stories

—By Thornton W. Burgess

THE UNTROUBLED ONE

Peter Rabbit sat up to listen. His long ears stood straight up. A look of interest, of curiosity, grew in his soft eyes. Slowly he grinned. "My, my, my!" Chatterer certainly has lost his temper this time. I wonder what has happened to set him to scolding like that," he murmured. Then away he went, lipperty, lipperty, lip, to try to find out.

He had no trouble in finding Chatterer. All he needed to do was scamper straight toward that scolding voice. As he drew near he moved quietly. He wanted to see without being seen. Presently he saw Chatterer on the trunk of a tree, head down, scolding someone below him as fast as his tongue could go, and it can go so fast that sometimes it seems as if it must be hung in the middle and both ends be going at once. Peter couldn't see whom he was scolding and calling thief and other bad names.

Peter crept a little nearer, Chatterer leaped to the ground and began running back and forth this way and that, from side to side, but always facing the same way. It must be some one on the ground who was exciting him so. Peter moved a little nearer. Then he saw a big mushroom with a piece missing from it. As he looked a familiar head was stretched up from beneath a withered fern and then withdrawn. Another piece was missing from that mushroom. Chatterer the red squirrel shrieked louder than ever.

"Slowpoke the turtle. He took a bite right out of that mushroom. So that is what is the trouble with Chatterer," thought Peter.

Slowpoke moved out from beneath the fern. Chatterer fairly danced with rage. He made all sorts of dreadful threats with his tongue, but only with his tongue. Slowpoke paid no attention. Watching him, you would not have known that he knew any one else was around, much less that any one was screaming bad names at him and threatening to do the very worst things to him. In his bright red eyes there was a look of pleasure and satisfaction and pleasant anticipation as he reached for another bite.

Chatterer started to rush at him, then thought the better of it. He didn't like the looks of those sharp-edged jaws that had just taken a bite from the mushroom. They looked dangerous. They looked as if they could and might take just such a bite out of him. Slowpoke looked completely untroubled. He was. Chatterer showed all his sharp little teeth, and, though they are small, for he is a small person, they are strong and sharp. They have to be to open nuts. The sight of them didn't trouble the Turtle in the least. Stout and sharp as those teeth were, they couldn't possibly open either of the doors of his house if he should retire inside and close them.

"You're a thief! That is my mushroom! I found it first!" shrieked Chatterer.

"Then I owe you my thanks for leaving it for me. What hasn't been taken is free to any one who comes along and wants it. No one had this mushroom, so I have taken it. Now it is mine. That is the law of the Green Forest, and well you know it. If you think you can take it away from me you are welcome to try. That also is the law of the Green Forest," hissed the untroubled one. Slowpoke always hisses when he speaks. All the Turtle folk do.

"I had a big nut to carry home when I found that mushroom. I couldn't take both at once, so I took the nut and hurried right back for my mushroom," shrieked the angry little Squirrel.

Now from the beginning Chatterer had known that Slowpoke had a perfect right to that mushroom and that there was nothing he, Chatterer, could do about it. And he knew that Slowpoke also knew this. He knew that the wise thing, the sensible thing, to do was to swallow his disappointment and hurry back to that hickory tree for more nuts. But he lost his temper and stayed there to foolishly call Slowpoke names and make foolish threats, all of which Slowpoke didn't mind in the least.

The next story: "Greed That Didn't Pay."

BAKER TO RECEIVE MILITARY BURIAL

Full military honors will be accorded Pfc. Harry M. Baker, Mansfield's first Gold Star hero to be returned from foreign soil when funeral services are held Saturday at 1 p. m. in Wappner funeral home.

The services will be in charge of the McVey Post, American Legion. Burial will be made in the Soldiers' Plot in Mansfield cemetery.

The 30-year-old soldier died Aug. 5 on Okinawa as a result of a vehicle accident. His body was returned to Mansfield late yesterday.

MYERS SUCCEEDS CLARK

ASHLAND — Francis E. Myers II is newly elected president of Ashland Country club succeeding Donald E. Clark. J. Fred Simmons was named vice president and Harry R. Shenberger was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The new directors are Clark, David Enck and T. W. Miller, jr.

THIS SIGN in a window of a Brooklyn, N. Y., store advertising "Homburger 39 cents, an extra pound for 1 cent" was practically unnoticed. Was a time, before decontrol, when this picture would have been a mob scene. (AP Wirephoto).

STOCK MARKET DRIFTS LOWER

NEW YORK —(INS)— The stock market drifted generally lower in forenoon dealings today. Losses exceeded a point with no particular section under pressure.

Trading was light throughout the first two hours.

Steels, which were relatively steady at the start, turned downward with the rest of the list. U. S. Steel declined nearly a point and fractions were shaved off Bethlehem, Youngstown and Jones and Laughlin. Chrysler dipped slightly after opening unchanged and General Motors lost almost a point. Liquors came in for some selling, also, with American Distilling down over a point.

Copper and mining shares were not spared. U. S. Smelting suffered a point set-back and lesser declines were sustained by Anaconda and International Nickel. Santa Fe led the railroads downward with a more than a point loss. U. S. Rubber was a soft spot in its group and a point lower at one time.

A number of issues held firm including American Telephone, Dome Mines, United Aircraft and Wilson.

Bonds and curb shares eased.

Carrier Boys Are Town's Youngest 'Business Men'

They're the youngest "business men" in town—the News-Journal carrier boys.

Take, for instance, the sextet of 11-year-old David Eyerly, 12-year-olds Richard Esbenshade, 13-year-olds Jim Lorentz, Howard Reynolds and Mearl Durbin and 14-year-old Roger Phillips.

Among them they've carried papers for an approximate total of eight years. Making from $5 to $12 a week from their routes, they buy their own clothes, boyish luxuries and start savings accounts.

David, youngest of the group, has the longest record for paper "toting. Every week for the past three years he's managed to put aside an average of $5 for personal expenses, and he's quite sure he's getting "plenty of good business experience. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Eyerly, 490 Springmill street.

Roger, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Phillips, 693 McPherson street, is convinced that carrying papers is a good way to make money and backs it up with a weekly $6 savings. Ambitious beyond his own route, Roger often takes over other districts for vacationing carriers.

Howard started carrying News-Journals about two months ago and already has $41 saved for a bike to help him out on his rounds. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Reynolds, 491 Springmill street.

"I think carrying papers is a swell job!" Mearl says. Mearl started on his route a month ago and likes to see that $6 go into the savings sock weekly. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Durbin, 565 Springmill street.

Paper peddling is a pretty cold business in the winter, but the easiest part of the job is "taking in the dough," according to Jim, son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Lorentz, 397 North Mulberry street. Jim's carried papers for two years.

Best weekly average of the group belongs to Richard Esbenshade, who says he makes about $12 from his route. He has no fault to find with the papercarrying business, but he has encountered a couple of unfriendly dogs on his route. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Esbenshade, 903 Benedict avenue.

TWO REAL ESTATE BOARDS ORGANIZED

COLUMBUS — Organization of two new real estate boards in the Ohio Real Estate association was announced today by Chauncey C. Howell, Akron, president of the state organization.

The new boards are Knox county and Bucyrus Real Estate boards. Gordon C. Grubb, Mt. Vernon, has been named president of the Knox county organization and Frank P. Sitler of the Bucyrus board. Both boards are in District 3 of the state association of which I. C. Jackson, Columbus, is regional president.

According to LeRoy Parsons, Columbus, executive secretary, the association now has a total membership of 63 local boards, comprised of 2,189 realtor members and 1,566 associate members. This is a gain of three boards, 352 realtor and 89 associate members over 1945.

Rescue Teams Hunt In Vain For Airliner

Hope for Lives of 11 Aboard Missing Plane Virtually Abandoned.

BULLETIN

BURBANK, Calif.—(AP)—Hope for finding alive the 11 persons aboard a missing Western Air Lines plane was virtually abandoned today.

BURBANK, Calif.—(UP)—Ground and air rescue teams searched snow-covered foothills near here today for a clue to the fate of a Western Air Lines transport carrying 11 persons which vanished early yesterday in a blinding rainstorm.

A day-long search by land and air was called off at nightfall. The search was resumed at daybreak by a ground force equipped with walkie-talkies and a motor fleet carrying medical supplies, food and stretchers.

The last report from the ship came before dawn Wednesday when the pilot, three minutes from a safe landing at Lockheed terminal, reported he was encountering storm flurries and was told to land at municipal airport, across town and near the ocean.

WAL officials feared the transport might have been engulfed in a sudden squall after acknowledging the order, and that it might have crashed against the mountains which loom perilously close to the San Fernando valley terminal. They admitted they were baffled by the disappearance less than five minutes from populous Los Angeles and Hollywood.

Airline officials discounted the possibility the plane could have crashed into the ocean. They said the pilot was too familiar with the region to have missed municipal airport by so far.

* * *

Made No Contact.

They also pointed out that he undoubtedly would have made another radio contact if he had stayed aloft long enough to have reached the ocean. Flying time from Burbank to municipal airport is 12 minutes.

Two county road employes operating a snowplow on a mountain highway reported seeing a huge flash during the storm but could not say definitely whether it was the result of an explosion on the mountain slopes or lightning.

The two-engined DC-3, on a flight from Salt Lake City, was flown by Senior Pilot Garrel J. Miller, 34, Van Nuys, with Ted Mathis, 25, Whittier, co-pilot, and Joan Fauntleroy, 22, Los Angeles, stewardess.

Passengers were Mrs. Florence Henry, Long Beach, Cal.; Mrs. Bridget W. W. Knight, Banff, Alberta, Can.; Mary La Branch, Edmonton, Alberta, Can.; J. S. Berry, 28, bartender, Butte, Mont.; Dr. S. G. Schaeffer, 58, dentist, Beverly Hills, Calif.; W. B. Davis, 38, mining engineer, West Los Angeles; A. F. Rice, 52, sales executive, Los Angeles: Mary Burns, Las Vegas, Nev

FOUR RED CROSS ROAD STATIONS TO AID INJURED

Chapter Moves to Cut Down Toll of Auto Mishaps.

Plans to set up four Red Cross first aid stations on heavily traveled Richland county highways were disclosed today by W. J. Robbins, chairman of the county chapter's first aid committee.

The stations would be one of the first important postwar projects of the Red Cross in its fight to cut down the death toll from highway accidents.

Plans have been completed for two of the stations.

One will be set up at the intersection of Ohio Route 181 and U. S. Route 30 South. It will be operated by Harry and Ralph B. Stahl, proprietors of the Midway Gas station at that point.

The second station will be in charge of Fred Patterson at the intersection of Ohio Route 314 and U. S. Route 30 N.

The three men are now taking the first aid course under the direction of the Red Cross committee and will be ready to begin operating by December 1.

A third station is planned somewhere on the Ashland road and the fourth on Ohio Route 13, south of Mansfield.

"These particular spots have been selected because of the great number of accidents which occur at these locations," Robbins declared. "We feel that the mere fact there is a sign announcing first aid emergency will remind drivers that these spots are strategic ones for travelers and may eventually we hope cut down on accidents at these locations."

Before the war, a number of such first aid stations were operated throughout the county. During the war trained personnel was lacking to continue them.

SMALL NATIONS ATTACK 'VETO'

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(U.P.)—The small and medium-sized countries in the United Nations brought their fight against the big five's veto power to a white heat today — fully aware that they couldn't eliminate the veto, but hopeful of causing the big powers to use it less frequently.

As they levelled verbal guns at the big five, the anti-veto forces knew they lacked the power to push through the UN general assembly, then the security council, any proposal to amend the UN charter's voting formula.

The western powers and Russia are as firmly allied in defense of the formula as they are at odds over most of the other big issues of the current assembly session.

But the smaller countries had a more practical objective: The possibility that the "battle of the veto in the assembly's political and security committee would cause the big powers voluntarily to soften the impact of the veto on operations of the world organization.

Meanwhile, in the assembly's embattled trusteeships committee the United States was preparing to announce its refusal to support the proposal of the union of South Africa that it be allowed to annex its south west Africa mandate.

The American stand, contrasting with Britain's support of the violently-condemned annexation proposal, was certain to make clear what already has considered to be the eventual outcome of south Africa's move: The assembly will reject it overwhelmingly.

TRAIN KILLS MOTORIST

AKRON —(AP)— A Pennsylvania railroad passenger train struck an automobile yesterday killing Carland Ramsey, 30.

SHERIFF CALLED IN LIQUOR CASE

Two more Richland countians, one of them Sheriff Frank E. Robinson, were under subpoena today by the state board of liquor control to testify in that agency's hearing on charges of selling liquor to a minor against the Big Three Beer company, 120-122 North Main street.

The charges, filed specifically against Harry R. Roth and Irvin H. Munster, doing business as the Big Three Beer company, were brought after a waitress allegedly sold beer to a 17-year-old boy last August.

The youth, charged with being a delinquent, was placed on probation for one year by the Richland county juvenile court. The waitress, Helen Sawyer, 117½ North Main street, escaped a court penalty when the jury which heard contributing-to-delinquency charges failed to agree on a verdict.

Sheriff Robinson was subpoenaed to testify, as was the youth who lives at a Perrysville, R. D. 2 address. Yesterday Lieut. Clare W. Kyler of the Mansfield police department, the arresting officer in the case, said he had been subpoenaed for the board hearing in Columbus Nov. 27.

Penalties for the alleged violation could be revocation or suspension of the company's three liquor licenses.

Truman Rests To Get Ready For Struggle

President Plans Week's Trip to Southern Florida.

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The White House announced today that President Truman will fly to southern Florida Sunday for a week of fishing and rest.

Basking in the sun in and around Key West, Mr. Truman will fortify his health for this winter's legislative struggle in which his administration is confronted by a Republican-controlled congress.

The president leaves Washington tomorrow aboard the yacht Williamsburg for a cruise to Annapolis for the Navy-Penn State football game, and is to return to the White House Saturday night.

He is scheduled to depart for Key West Sunday morning.

The trip will mark Mr. Truman's second vacation of the year and will again take him to a semi-tropical clime. In August, he found rest and relaxation in Bermuda.

The chief executive is to fly directly to Key West and is expected to land around 3 p. m. at the Naval Air station there, a huge wartime installation.

GREEKS IN FIGHT

LONDON —(U.P.)— An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Athens said today that a group of "bandits," 1,000 strong, had fought a battle with a company of Greek troops along the Greek-Yugoslav frontier in which two and possibly four Greek officers were killed

HUNTERS TAKE FIELD FRIDAY IN HUGE FORCE

Record Number of Licenses Sold in County For Season Opening.

Tomorrow at noon is "D" day for pheasants and rabbits throughout Ohio and Richland county nimrods in unprecedented numbers will tuck the old scattergun under their arms and take to the fields.

On opening day tomorrow the legal hours for hunting are from 12 noon to 5:30 p. m. Thereafter the legal hours are 7:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Pheasant season closes on Nov. 30 while rabbits may be hunted until the last day of the year.

The Richland County Fish and Game Protective association reported that between 3,800 and 3,900 licenses had been distributed to 39 small establishments that could not afford the expense of the required bond to handle the sale of licenses direct from the State Conservation Department.

This was an increase of from 1,500 to 1,800 more than last year, an official said.

Yuncker Brothers Sporting goods store reported 100 more licenses sold this year than last. It handles licenses separately from those distributed by the Fish and Game Protective association as also do Goetz hardware store and Schmutzlers bar and cafe both of which likewise reported sales up from last year.

Fair Home Crop

Many Mansfield and Richland county hunters journey into northwestern Ohio to hunt pheasants on the openin day, but those who tramp the home fields should find good hunting

C. I Kimmel, county game protector, reports a fair but spotty crop of both pheasants and rabbits. For obvious reasons he will not divulge the good and poor areas.

He warned that no hunter may have more than two pheasants and four rabbits in his possession at one time.

Between 1,500 and 1,600 pheasants were distributed in the county last summer. The Fish and Game Protective association said 1,000 of these birds were released in August after being raised to the proper age by inmates at the Mansfield reformatory.

68,802 In State.

The Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources reports that 68,802 pheasants were released throughout Ohio in time for fall shooting. This figure exceeded all previous years and surpassed the number released last year by 20,000.

The Conservation Department has estimated that 750,000 hunting licenses will be sold in Ohio this year.

Mansfield hardware and sporting goods stores report a fair amount of 12 gauge shotgun shells available but say there is a shortage of 16, 20, and 410 gauge shells and in hunting togs and equipment of all kinds.

VOTES TO CLOSE VETS' CENTER

Closing of the Mansfield Veterans' Information center Dec. 31 for want of patronage was recommended yesterday afternoon by the executive committee of the center which accepted the resignation of William R. Allen as director.

Allen submitted his resignation yesterday, asking that it be made effective immediately.

Spokesmen for the committee said the center had served its purpose because there has been a marked decline in the number of calls and other sources of information for veterans have been made available since the center was opened in October, 1945.

Mrs Mary Helen Nixon, secretary of the center, will operate the office through next month with the cooperation of the various veterans and civic organizations, the committee said.

VETS STUDYING

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—World War II veterans attending Ohio educational institutions under the G. I. Bill and Public Law 16, for disabled veterans, came to 63,128 as of Nov. 1, it was reported today by George R. Brown, jr., director of the VA vocational branch office here.

15 Per Cent Rent Boost Believed Likely In City

JOHN L. LEWIS (left), president, and John J. O'Leary, vice president, United Mine Workers, sit impassively as they meet with Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug. Krug is seeking to avert a threatened shutdown of soft coal mines.—(AP wirephoto)

60-Day 'Truce' Sought To Avoid Coal Strike

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government today was reported seeking a 60-day "truce" in the nation's strike-threatened soft coal fields while John L. Lewis and the mine owners negotiate a contract to speed release of the federally operated pits.

Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug planned to meet the United Mine Workers' chief again today after two highly secret conferences yesterday.

Tomorrow, Lewis may serve notice he intends to terminate the government contract in five days. Almost inevitably, this would lead to a walkout of his 400,000 soft coal diggers on Nov. 20 since the miners do not work without a contract.

While Lewis kept silent, the operators told Krug they were willing to meet with the miners' boss in an effort to avoid a crippling new strike.

Krug was reported by one operator to be seeking a commitment from Lewis to keep the miners working—say for a 60-day period—until agreement can be reached on a private contract that would permit early return of the mines to the operators.

The owners have been serving as mine managers since the government seized the pits in last spring's 59-day strike. Efforts by the operators and miners to come to terms failed at that time. After the government stepping in, Krug made a contract with Lewis which ended the shutdown. Lewis contends the government breached the agreement by "misinterpretations" of vacation pay provisions and other matters.

Furthermore, Lewis said, there had been changes in government wage policy—hinting at new wage and hour demands. He has not yet made those demands known.

Krug held brief sessions with five leading operators and with Lewis' group yesterday. The outlook appeared gloomy. As the miners filed out of the conference with Krug they were unusually grim.

In less than an hour, Lewis was back in Krug's office alone for an unannounced chat. He appeared in high spirits as he left that time.

Writers Fight Jim Crow Laws

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Thirty-three well known playwrights, composers and lyricists today threatened to boycott Washington theaters unless "Jim Crow" practices are ended.

They said they would not permit their productions to play here if racial discrimination "on either side of the footlights" continues.

Mrs. America Title Won by Mother of 4

Ohio Woman Receives $2,500 First Prize Award.

JACKSON, Miss. — (U.P.) — Mrs. Janice Pollock, lovely brown-haired, brown-eyed mother of four children held Mrs. America honors for 1946 today thanks to her husband who had prodded her into entering the contest.

Mrs. Pollock, who hails from Columbus, O., was wearing her "old black dinner dress" when four judges came out of a huddle and pointed a lucky finger at her.

Runners up in the annual contest were red-haired Fredda Aker of Anderson, S. C., and Mrs. Donna Vestelle, willowy blonde widow of a marine killed overseas. She was billed as "Mrs. New York," although her home was originally in Fairbury, Neb.

Mrs Pollock waited until newsreel cameras whirred and newspaper photographers took their shots before confessing that she owed it all to her husband Mark of the Burns Cuboid Co., of Columbus.

"He had insisted that I submit a photograph and wear this dress," she said.

Mrs. Pollock is 24 years old. She came here without any fancy clothes. Her honor-winning measurements were given as follows:

Height, 5 feet, 6½ inches; weight, 128 pounds; waist, 25½ inches; Bust 34½ inches; hips, 35½ inches.

Winner of the $2,500 first prize Mrs. Pollock said that she wasn't interested in making any money-spending plans until she consults with her husband.

"After all," she said, "I owe it all to him."

BEER GAINS VOTES

PORTSMOUTH — (AP) — Washington township electors, who voted against liquor and wine Nov. 5, voted to permit sale of beer by a margin of six votes instead of by the one-vote margin originally announced, a recount showed today.

Realtors Call Proposal Fair

Board Official Cites Rising Cost of Keeping Property In Condition.

A rent boost upwards of 15 per cent loomed today for Mansfield and the rest of the nation.

OPA promised full consideration of a request by its rent industry advisory committee for a general increase in rents and the lifting of rent ceilings on new residential construction. It was the first time in four and a half years that OPA had expressed a willingness to consider an across-the-board increase in rent ceilings.

If the increase is granted, it will have the approval of the Mansfield real estate board, whose president, Charles R. Callihan, today termed the proposal "fair and nominal."

Callihan said elimination of ceilings on new construction would encourage building and help alleviate the tight housing situation.

Should the 15 per cent rent boost be granted, the average renter, who is now paying $35 a month, would pay $5.25 more. On a $40 property, the increase would amount to $6; on the $50 rental, $7.50; and on the $60 property $9.

OPA has withstood pressure for a general increase ever since rents were put under control in 1942, although it has granted more than 900,000 individual adjustments to landlords claiming hardship.

* * *

President Truman said last Saturday that further rent adjustments may be necessary but whether they will be general or individual remains to be seen. OPA doubtless would favor the individual method, but there was fresh evidence today the decision may be taken out of its hands.

Informed sources said the budget bureau was now working out details of a plan to set up a new liquidation agency to take over the remaining functions of OPA, the civilian production administration and the office of contract settlement.

The Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, headed by John R. Steelman, will remain independent of the new agency, it was said, so it will be free to settle inter-agency rows which otherwise might require the attention of the president.

The rent advisory committee coupled its request for a general rent increase with a proposal to eliminate rent ceilings on new construction and on property being converted from non-residential to residential use. These ceilings are fixed by Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt, who was expected to announce within the next week whether he plans to keep them.

GROUP SPENT $718 FOR LEVY

Deadline for political candidates to file with the board of elections their statements of expenses incurred in last week's election arrives tomorrow and only two candidates and one committee had complied with the requirement by noon today.

Norman L. Wolfe and Lewis L. Rinehart, Democratic candidates for county auditor and county commissioner, respectively, filed their statements, as did the Three Mill Levy committee which worked for passage of the Mansfield school district levy.

Wolfe, unopposed for re-election as auditor, reported no expenses and no contributions. Rinehart reported no contributions received but his expenses, largely for advertising, totaled $136.88.

The Three Mill Levy committee reported contributions of $640.50 from Parent-Teacher association groups and labor organizations, and expenses, principally for advertising, totaling $718.06

BUDGET WILL BE BALANCED, M'GREGOR SAYS

150 Cheer Congressman at GOP 'Victory Dinner.'

The federal budget will be balanced by the Republican-controlled congress when it convenes next January "whether the president likes it or not," J. Harry McGregor, of West Lafayette, congressman from the 17th district, told more than 150 Richland county Republicans last night.

Speaking at a "victory dinner" at the North Lake pavilion in celebration of the GOP landslide of Nov. 5, McGregor also predicted taxes would be lowered 20 per cent.

In addition, he declared, "we will proceed to remove from 600,000 to 700,000 people from government payrolls."

McGregor stated that "one of the first things we'll do" when congress convenes will be to declare the "war emergency" over.

He brought cheers from the audience when he said:

"We are going to balance the budget, and whether the president likes it or not makes no difference. It will be balanced under a Republican majority."

* * *

Likes Volunteer Plan.

Turning to the military training issue, he said Republicans always have believed in an adequate defense, "but we believe it can be done under a volunteer rather than a mandatory system. We believe we can have a large army by making it attractive to volunteers."

Other speakers at the dinner were Ralph Winter, state senator; J. Chester Ward, state central committeeman; Mrs. Louise DeVoe, state central committeewoman, and C. L. Shoup, county commissioner.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn gave the welcoming address, and Mrs. William Grubaugh introduced the speakers.

Preparations for the dinner were in charge of the Richland County Republican Women's club.

TROOPS CRACK BLACK MARKET

ZEILSHEIM, Germany —(UP)—American troops raided the Zeilsheim UNRRA displaced person camp today and seized eight persons described as "big time" black market dealers.

Saccharine worth an estimated $50,000 at illegal prices was found in the camp, along with caches of American dollars, gold coins, military scrip valued at $2,000, and a six-inch stack of German hundred-mark bills.

Lt. Col. Redmond J. Conolly, Brooklyn, N. Y., Frankfurt provost marshal who directed the raid, said: "we found eight of the men we were looking for. Four of them were 'big time' ring leaders and the other four were large-scale independent operators."

One hundred American soldiers and 25 army criminal investigation agents took part in the raid. No hostility was encountered. Some of the 3,500 Jewish inhabitants of the camp were still in bed when the raiders began prowling through the camp.

Provost marshall investigations had been watching the camp for some time in an effort to identify leaders of the reported illegal dealings. Army agents had been planted in a German bakery at Zeilsheim and had learned of large-scale black market trading.

Yesterday the Occupation Chronicle, a weekly newspaper published for the dependent's community in Frankfurt, charged that UNRRA goods were sold in sidewalk booths at the camp, and that counterfeiters at Zeilsheim were turning out unlimited quantities of money, food ration coupons and clothing certificates.

Landlubber Mansfield Will Turn 'Sea-Going' Come July

By JOHN MINE

Mansfield, some 500 miles from the nearest ocean, is going to be about as "sea-going" as any inland city can be, come next July.

It's then that a $300,000 naval armory will be ready for its "shake-down cruise" and begin training 285 men and 23 officers for sea duty in time of war.

Into a $100,000, triple-quonset structure will go some $200,000 worth of special electronics and shipboard equipment. The armory is to be located on city property on Ashland road. Construction begins in March.

Says Lt. Comdr. A. E. Heiser, who will be busy recruiting men for the reserve units between now and July, Mansfield's naval armory will be one of seven "Class A" reserve training centers in Ohio. All costs will be borne by the navy.

'Twill Have a "Mess."

It'll have a radio and "sonar" (underwater sounding) equipment, a boiler room and switchboard similar to that on destroyers, a complete damage-control "mock-up," metal work and marine repair shops and a large drill center.

In addition, there'll be a "mess" (eating place to you land-lubbers), showers and recreation rooms among its other facilities.

The 154 by 125-foot armory will be the training center for two types of units. One will consist of 200 men and 13 officers and will be known as a "ready reserve" unit.

The second will be "volunteer reserve" units and consist of one electronics warfare company of five officers and 40 men, plus five platoons of one officer and nine men each.

Men to Be Paid.

The "ready reserve" will be the most extensively trained and will receive instruction on a schedule. Its men will be paid.

The "volunteer reserve" will be trained on a come-when-you-want-to basis and will receive no pay, according to Comdr. Heiser.

Mansfield's ready reserve will be known as "Division 195." It will include one lieutenant commander, three lieutenants, nine lieutenants (jg) or ensigns in its officer corps.

In the enlisted men's section will be eight first pay grade men, 12 in the second pay grade, 16 in the third, 20 in the fourth, and 144 in the fifth, sixth and seventh pay grades.

Commander Heiser said that although the triple quonset structure is planned for Mansfield, a concrete building may be erected.

It is planned to build the armory some 75 feet back from the street and to grade and landscape ground in front of it, Heiser said.

Heiser, currently living at 667 Cook road, is district director of naval reserve for Mansfield. He served in this area during the war as resident naval inspector and area supervisor of 367 war plants. He was called back to active duty to help recruit the reserve units.

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1946

Not a moment too soon to suggest the advisability of doing your Christmas shopping early!

This is the time in the week when practically all of next Saturday's football games look like "sure things"—then it happens.

Pessimists are greatly cheered by signs that there may be a coal strike soon, and that another steel strike is likely to be coming along soon after the first of the year.

Time To Resume Asking the Price

NOW would be a good time for housewives (and their husbands) to again become what is known as "price conscious"—that state of mind which argues that it is better to do without a thing than to pay an excessively high price for it.

Extreme scarcities of wanted commodities (meat, butter, cheese, and some fruits and vegetables) have resulted in many people saying: "I'll take this, that and the other thing," without asking the price, and permitting all items to be bulked as a total without ever finding out what any one of them cost.

If such a course were permitted to continue indefinitely there would be no real incentive to change from the policy of keeping prices at the highest point "the traffic will bear."

There is requirement, of course, for "reasonable profit" to producers, distributors and retailers, based on increased production and operating costs, but experience has taught the necessity of keeping a wary eye on those who are not above profiteering when the way seems clear—and it is this that need be guarded against at a time when supplies fall short of demands and when prices are based on desire and ability to buy, rather than on legitimate values.

Mansfield 'Jaycees' Stepping Ahead

NOW it is Mansfield's Junior Chamber of Commerce, familiarly known as the "Jaycees", that has reached and substantially passed its membership goal of 210, in a campaign that ended last night.

When it is taken into account that post-war reorganization of the Junior C. of C. was started only last May, with a charter membership of 31, which had since grown to 148, the present accomplishment will be noted with pleasure by all Mansfielders who realize the latent possibilities of such an organization of civic-minded young men in this community.

With an age range of from 21 to 35 years, and with a membership reaching toward 300, it can be readily understood that many opportunities for valuable service will open to such a group—and it is possible that the younger viewpoint will hit upon the need of doing some of the things for civic betterment that have been overlooked or disregarded by older residents who are sometimes more likely to be influenced by tradition than are those who must soon accept full responsibility for maintenance of progress.

As nearly as can be judged, there is a capability and earnestness in local Jaycee leadership, and an enthusiasm and interest among its members, sufficient to justify confidence that a constructive program of work will be developed and carried through during the coming year.

Newcomers Commend Council Action

MANSFIELD'S city council and Safety-Service Director William W. Enlow are being commended for their action in arranging quickly a method by which new residents of Mansfield can obtain trash and ash collection service.

Dozens of newcomers to the city in recent weeks had sought such service. They were refused because of an ancient rule that ash collection service would be granted only for those who had subscribed for at least a year to the garbage collection service at a rate of $1.80 a quarter, or $7.20 a year.

Applications for ash service had been rejected because of uncertainty as to the charge that would be set in a new ordinance now being studied by council.

When Director Enlow called council's attention to the matter, it quickly clarified the rules. It decided that a new resident, simply by paying the regular rate until February 1, could receive the service. On that date, council plans to make effective the new ordinance which, in present form, will set a charge of $7.20 for garbage collection and $6 a year for ash-trash service.

By thus coming to the aid of new residents, Mr. Enlow and council removed in one stroke an irritation for new residents and left instead a definite feeling that Mansfield officials strive to give the best possible service to the taxpaper, be he a newcomer or long-time resident.

Less Sugar May Benefit Health

THE SUGAR shortage, felt even more on the east and west coasts than in the interior of the country, while easing a bit, is not due to clear up until 1948. There are many reasons for this scarcity. War destroyed sugar plantations. In the Philippines, which used to ship a million tons annually to the United States, there is such a dearth of sugar that this country is sharing its supplies with the islands. Java, upon which Great Britain and other European countries depended for a million and a quarter tons a year, has had its sugar industry almost completely destroyed.

Added to war's inroads, the maritime strike has held thousands of tons of sugar on docks, trucks and ships on both coasts. The all-out industrial strike in Hawaii, where much sugar is raised, added to the scarcity in western states.

Even so, Americans are now eating 73 pounds of sugar per year as contrasted with their pre-war consumption of 100 pounds per person. This is not so bad. Within two years they are expected to have 110 pounds each. Actually it is not hurting most people to do with a little less sweetening. There is such a thing as intemperance in sweets, as many waist-lines evidence.

When Baby 'Goes To College'

A NEW style in college "queens" has come as a result of the many married veterans who are returning to campus life. The Oregon State college at Corvallis, Ore., started the vogue and it's a good one. Here the traditional queen competition staged heretofore among co-eds has been changed to a baby contest.

At the Oregon-Oregon State football game the last week of November, the prettiest baby of a veteran will reign as queen and head the parade.

National Cat week passed without any special observance in this community, where many people seem more disposed to direct attention to nightly yowlings of cats than to devote an entire week to the subject.

IT'S A COMPLICATED GAME

Occupation Failure May Result In Russian Agreement On Unification

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THE REPORT that the Soviet Union is preparing to come to an agreement along the lines of the American plan for Germany suggests that victors, as well as vanquished, live and learn. It is said that, preliminary to an agreement, Russia expects some significant concessions, but is willing to make some of her own.

The impact behind the prospective agreement is not generosity on the part of Britain, France, Russia and the United States. They are all fencing for advantage.

They are willing to agree, because they have all made such a mess of matters in their respective zones. Letting Germany run itself will be preferable to a further trial of running it themselves.

The Soviet government is finding its conquest expensive. Political plans are going askew. Germans refuse to become Communists. The looting of the German industrial plant is laborious and unproductive. Transplanted German technicians are not master craftsmen in Russian environment. And keeping Soviet troops in Germany is costly and dangerous to morale.

It is clear that the Soviet is going to try to get considerable concessions in return for agreement to the American plan. These concessions may involve a freer hand in Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary. Control of the Danube may also figure in the deal.

But, in return, Germany may be allowed to keep Stettin and possibly Breslau. Concessions on the eastern border will anger the Poles. The Soviet will have to make some concessions, perhaps territorial, to the Poles. But robbing the Poles to pay various European Pauls is not new. And all the Allied nations are so thoroughly tired of German occupation that almost any price will be mutually agreeable.

Even with a softer attitude on all hands, the job of setting up a self-contained Germany will be immense. It is doubtful if statecraft ever faced such a problem.

For Germany has no government, no working constitution, no idea of how it is to support itself, and no clear notion of what its borders are to be.

Germany will not be a negotiator in the peace to be made. It must be a peace written from the outside. And the peace will not only have to set up the relations of Germany with the rest of the world, but will have to provide a government for Germany itself.

The nearest thing to a German organic law is the Weimar constitution of 1919. Legally, this constitution still stands. The Nazis paralyzed, but did not kill it by the Enabling Act of 1933, which gave Hitler and his cabinet plenary power. The Enabling Act has been continued and will expire legally in 1947.

Under the Enabling Act, Hitler suspended state and local government. The primary task of the Allied powers would seem to be the revival of federal government. In the American zone, some progress has been made in a revival of local and state government.

The Russians, apparently, tried to create a political unit in their zone, without success. Clearly, the Germans, despite the Nazi interlude, are federally minded. This was the basic principle of Bismarck. It conforms to German habits and loyalties.

The task on the political side is to bring about the restoration of Bismarck's united states of Germany and also to find what remains of the personnel of the old administrative organization which was scattered by Hitler.

Beyond the political problem is the economic task. More people must be fed, with less land to cultivate. Industrial life must be developed, without permitting a growth of an armament potential. Meanwhile, the United States and Britain must contribute money, and Russia, presumably, must supply a genuine will to co-operate.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, Maryland, the last surviving signer of the Declaration of Independence, died on November 14, 1832.

Dave Boone Says:

IT SEEMS to me that President Truman shapes up bigger in his hour of reverses than he has at any time since he entered the White House. His first statement since the election was a dignified, gracious and fair one, revealing the spirit of a man heavily burdened but rushing to do his best for his country.

* * *

"I am guided by a simple formula, to do from day to day, without regard for narrow political considerations, what seems to me to be the best for the welfare of all our people." That's an inspired paragraph. It's so far from the demagogic, cocksure, know-it-all attitude so long rampant in so many places that it is like a breath of fresh air.

And it's the first time in years any Democrat has considered day-to-day planning instead of trying to fix everything up for generations.

If the Republican victory sobers all the super-planners up that much, it will be quite a feat.

One trouble with America is that in the free-for-all rush to take care of events 50 years from now, we have left today and tomorrow in pretty sloppy shape.

Calvin A. Byers

Farmer's Diary: "Beat Drum for Peace."

THERE'S something hopeful for the country's future, I believe, in the way young couples are adapting themselves to the bad housing situation. "Sweet are the uses of adversity," said the poet, "which like the toad, ugly and venomous, wears yet a precious jewel in its head."

There has never been a time, in this nation's history, I suppose when people have traveled farther, and traveled "lighter." Many of our brawny ex-GI's have a new meaning of the word "home." They know that home does not depend upon the size of the dwelling nor the cost of it, half so much as upon the girl who waits there for the hour of her man's returning.

They know, these ex-soldier boys, that there is much to thank God for if a man has a roof and a fire and enough to eat. If, in addition, he has privacy for his own family—and his healthy family keeps him hepping to furnish food and fuel, he's plain lucky. If, in addition he can claim a few acres of soil—preferably somewhere in Ohio, USA, and plant himself an orchard against his old age and for his family's future well-being, he ought certainly to be a happy man.

We stripped off a lot of gilt and superficial clutter, to win the war. We streamlined our thinking, too, perhaps more than we yet realize. The things that really matter came to the fore, with all of us. We can all go farther, if we "travel light."

And we need to go far, as leaders of world thought . . . as patterns of world action. Each in his own small dooryard, we need to practice the world peace that we are praying for. We need to train our children so well that the world will never lack leaders to champion what is good.

CERTAINLY, WE CAN DO IT!

What was it Lincoln said . . . "It is rather for us, the living, to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us . . . that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom . . ."

Let's get down to the eternal verities . . . that matter more than race or creed or pocketbook. "Righteousness exalteth a nation . . ." let us learn and practice it. Let us not only be ready to die for freedom but to live for it, until the contagion of righteousness and peace and joy spreads to all the world.

GOP Now Has Chance To Abolish Seniority System, Probably Won't

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Most important question to be decided at the Republican organization meetings to be held on Capitol Hill today will be the time-honored matter of "seniority." In other words, does the ablest man sit as chairman of a committee or the party hack with the "mostest" service?

This was one thing which handicapped congress under the Democrats. The old-timers usually were Southern conservatives who, because of seniority, were given charge of important committees.

The Republicans have a real chance to change this. In the first place, a new broom can always sweep clean. Secondly, there was much talk when the Congressional Reorganization Act was passed about abolishing seniority.

If committee chairmen were picked on the basis of brains, not seniority, hard-working, trigger-brained Albert J. Engel of Muskegon, Mich., would be chairman of the important appropriations committee, instead of moss-back Congressman John Taber of Auburn, N. Y. Engel's watchful eye on war department spending was described by Gen. George Marshall as one of the healthiest influences on the army.

Again, if brains rather than age prevailed, able Representative Daniel Reed of Dunkirk, N. Y., would become chairman of the ways and means committee, instead of babbling, bumptious Harold Knutsen of Minnesota.

Brains Don't Matter.

First test of seniority may come if Senator Joe Ball of Minnesota attempts to leap-frog over Vermont's George Aiken as chairman of the senate education and labor committee. This happens to be one case where the man with the seniority — Aiken — is thoroughly qualified for the job.

Ball, on the other hand, is branded by both AFL and CIO as the "friend of U. S. Steel." Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, who had a fine record on the War Labor Board, might also be picked as chairman of the labor committee should seniority be cast aside.

If seniority prevails, chairmanship of the highly important new national defense committee (merging the military affairs and naval affairs committees) will go to Senator Chan Gurney of South Dakota, a brass-hat bellboy.

Senators Charles Tobey of New Hampshire or Owen Brewster of Maine, both abler men, would be logical choices over Gurney if brains were considered important. But, according to many solons in both parties, they aren't. The Republicans have a real chance to break with hide-bound precedent, but the betting odds are they won't take it.

Capital Chaff.

Harold Ickes, stalwart of the Roosevelt cabinet, strongly opposed the appointment of Elliott Roosevelt to the committee of Progressives to carry out Roosevelt ideals. In the end, Ickes was overruled . . . Friends of Senator Bilbo say he is suffering from cancer of the mouth. Some believe this is only a smoke screen to arouse sympathy during the investigation of Bilbo's war-contract scandals which smell to high heaven . . . Secretary of War Patterson requires a top aide to be on the job in the war department when he leaves town; therefore Undersecretary Royall, Assistant Secretaries Symington and Peterson drew straws to see who would stay home during the Army-Notre Dame game. Symington lost. However, it will now be his turn to see the Army-Navy game . . . Something strange is going on inside the Federal Communications Commission. It recently awarded a radio station to J. Harold Smith, whose radio programs were such that the Scripps-Howard station in Knoxville dropped him from the air. Now, thanks to the FCC, Mr. Smith can go to town on his own station . . . GOP Chairman Carroll Reece was greatly surprised last week when Bob Hannegan called him on the phone and offered his congratulations. "You fellows fought a good fight," Hannegan said, "and as long as you had to win, I'm glad you won by a big majority. Congratulations."

War Secretary Entertains.

Three GIs from Walter Reed hospital are still talking about the big week-end they spent with the Secretary of War at the Army-Notre Dame game.

Mrs. Robert Patterson, wife of the secretary of war, works among wounded GIs at the army's Walter Reed Hospital, and selected three of them to go with her husband to the game. The lucky veterans were Ffc. James O. Wilson, Winston Salem, N. C.; Sgt. Gerald R. Groves, Meadville, Pa., and Cpl. John English, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Not only did they ride in Secretary Patterson's private plane to New York and see the game as his guests, but afterwards, Wall Street financier Floyd Odlum and his wife Jacqueline Cochran invited them to lunch at their ornate Park avenue apartment.

GOP Farm Prospects.

Now that the elections are over, the American farmer, like the laboring man, would like to know what is in store for him in the new GOP-controlled congress. Here is a Merry-Go-Round forecast of what will happen:

There will be no major change in the government's farm program for the next two years—partly because the coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats will remain in the driver's seat.

However, you will hear the same hue and cry for parity prices on farm products in order to make them conform with higher living costs, and the first move will be to increase the price of potatoes.

There is a tremendous potato surplus this year, and though a considerable portion of the crop has been diverted to animal feed and alcohol, potato producers are protesting that they are receiving far below parity prices. Furthermore potatoes are a "GOP crop" from the rock-ribbed Republican state of Maine and the recently voted Republican state of Idaho. Spuds, therefore, will get relief.

The new congress also will enact a law coordinating soil conservation functions now handled by the Soil Conservation Service, the field service branch of the Production and Marketing Administration, the extension service of the department of agriculture and other agencies.

Congress will vote a similar coordination of all agencies engaging in farm credit, including: the Farm Credit Administration, the Federal Land banks, intermediate credit banks and the Farmers Home Administration. This means that all farm credit functions will be taken out from under the Democratic secretary of agriculture and will be administered by an independent board, which, of course, will include several Republicans.

Local Administration of National Policies.

WASHINGTON — In President Truman's offer of co-operation with Republicans in congress there stood out like a beacon his insistence upon "a progressive concept of government."

It is well to repeat what he said on this point:

"As president of the United States I am guided by a simple formula: to do in all cases, from day to day, without regard to narrow political considerations, what seems to me to be best for the welfare of all our people. Our search for that welfare must always be based upon a progressive concept of government."

Elsewhere in his statement the president recognized frankly that inevitably there will arise issues between the White House and congress.

Though he did not say so, it will be on the meaning of "a progressive concept of government" on which some of these issues will be drawn.

They will relate to how much the federal government should do, and how much the states and local governments, in the matter of social welfare problems. Extreme viewpoints will be advanced again, as before. On one hand, and much in the minority now because of the election, are those for increased centralization of government. On the other are those, now much more powerful in congress, who would make "state rights" supreme, to use the broad, vague phrase.

Attempts to adopt either of these extreme viewpoints will contribute only to a stalemate that some fear out of the present divided responsibility. There is a middle course which is the way of true progressivism and was the formula used by the New Deal in some of its major reforms now so generally accepted, among them the Social Security program in which federal and state governments share.

There is a deceptiveness in the cry for "state rights" and "a return of power to local government." Some who raise it, for example, are most willing to use the tariff and tax-making power of the federal government to favor special interests. These powers frequently have been so used.

It has been discovered, too, that the clamor for "state rights" often comes from special interests who hope to profit by weakness of state laws in the field of social and economic welfare. That was the reason why congress had to enact a federal wage-hour law. It is perhaps significant that this was due to conditions to the South, where "state rights" is more of a fetish than elsewhere.

There is danger in "big government." This is recognized in a penetrating analysis by David Lilienthal, a progressive thinker, former TVA head who recently was named chairman of the atomic energy commission. In a speech in Philadelphia he concluded that "big government" is not inevitable and offered a formula to avoid it and still serve the people.

Explaining that there are many problems which are national, he said these require a national policy, but administration can be regional and local.

Just because "the central government through the congress must and should determine upon a national policy in a particular field, it does not follow that the administration of that policy must also be on a nation-wide basis, must also be centralized," he said.

Because of the nature of the election, this problem will be foremost in the coming congress. The public might as well know in advance that "state rights" can be used as a cover to restrict and curtail worthwhile and valuable services to the people.

Truman Was Misled By Partisan Advisers.

WASHINGTON — There was a dreamlike quality about the president's first press conference since the Republican sweep. It was solemn, a little like a wake.

Veteran reporters were present who had not been at a press conference since the McKinley administration — well, anyway, the Hoover administration. They had waited for this moment of defeat for a long time.

Mr. Truman read his statement in a voice that sounded somehow thinner and scratchier than ever before. It was full of earnest sentiment. It was typical of the man, of his character and his temperament.

With the sentiment and the earnest hope left out, the content is meager.

The statement recognizes the dilemma of a government of powers divided between opposing parties but only in passing, as one would recognize the fact that it is raining.

The president apparently accepts the constitutional crisis of the next two years as inevitable. He says nothing about the need to resolve it. At the moment when public attention is focussed on the difficulties of government under our system of divided powers and a fixed term of office for the chief executive, the president might have taken the opportunity to point the need for change through the legitimate process of amending the constitution.

That is not the president's way. He has always waited until the course of events forced a decision. As he would put it, he does not go out looking for trouble. Unhappily in the White House, trouble—of every kind—runs you down and sits on your chest.

The blow is a greater one than Mr. Truman has permitted the world to see. There is no doubt of that. Too many of the men around him had been telling him, right up into the campaign, that he was doing all right and that his detractors were motivated by malice and jealousy.

The president is badly in need of the kind of brief holiday that might give him perspective. He needs to get away from the little group that surrounds him so tightly. For one thing, a nagging cold has pulled him down and he lacks the springy physical vitality that has carried him through so much adversity during the past year and a half.

In talking with his intimates about the next two years, he puts his hopes on getting together with congress on the kind of legislation that will have bi-partisan support.

If he follows his present intentions, the president will use his veto power far less than has been anticipated. He is inclined to the view that the incoming congress represents the view of an overwhelming majority of the voters.

He feels, therefore, that it is not his place to try to stop with the veto the legislation adopted by the big new majorities in the senate and the house.

Granted this is still his frame of mind as the congress gets into action, he would probably sign a new labor law even though it resembled the restrictive Case bill, which he once vetoed. He would sign it more in sorrow than in anger, pointing out that it represented the will of the majority as expressed in a fair election.

In other words, as of the present, he feels it his duty to go along with the new congress.

HENRY WALLACE says nothing can save us with the Republicans in power but he'll do his best to defend the old republic with the typewriters of the New Republic.

FASTEST AND FINEST passenger ship to be built in the U. S, the luxury liner America is given a gala welcome as she comes into New York harbor after a test run from Newport News, Va. Known during the war as the U.S.S. West Point, the flagship of the U. S. Lines carried 400 guests and was put through a routine of zig-zags, speed tests and sharp turns in the course of her trip. U. S. Luxury Liner Starts Regular Atlantic Run Today

NEW YORK —(UP)— The 26,454-ton S S America, largest United States passenger liner, sails at 4 p m today on her first peacetime North Atlantic crossing

The sleek luxury vessel, with practically everything but her hull rebuilt to erase all trace of five years duty as a troop transport, will touch at Cobh, Southampton, and Le Havre

Carrying a capacity load of 1,050 passengers, the America will be commanded on her first venture into the competitive maritime trade by Commodore Harry Manning, who learned his trade in sailing ships

At 49 Manning is almost a legend It was he, as master of the S S Manhattan during a trans-Atlantic trip early in World War II, who argued a German U-boat captain into sparing his vessel

In 1929, as chief officer of the old America, he commanded a lifeboat in a full gale which rescued the entire crew of a floundering Italian freighter

ON-JOB VETS INCREASE 103 IN OCTOBER

A total of 2,892 veterans engaged in on-the-job or institutional training and education as of Oct 31, represents a substantial increase over the figures for September, G D Weidemaier, manager of the Mansfield sub-regional office, Veterans Administration said today

A total of 1,797 veterans are now on the job trainees in industry, business or agriculture under the GI Bill and Public Law 16, Weidemaier pointed out. This is an increase of 103 over the period ended Sept. 30.

Comparative figures for Septemper and October for non-disabled and disabled veterans receiving training or education show the following Non-disabled, Sept 1,481, Oct 1,576 disabled veterans, Sept 213 Oct 259

A breakdown of September figures for veterans in college special schools and other institutional training was not available As of Oct 31, there were a total of 1 095 veterans in the sub-regional office area receiving such education, Weidemaier said Of these 53 were disabled veterans

"The increase in the number of disabled veterans on our roles is due to the fact that greater numbers are continually be released from hospitals," Weidemaier said

"A surprising thing is the continued increase in the number of veterans taking on-the-job training despite the ceiling which has been put on their earnings I attribute this growth to the fact that veterans are looking ahead to the future and realizing that their income ten years from now will be heavily dependent upon the training they receive now for their jobs"

Books for the Younger Set

Books reviewed in this column will be on display at the Public Library this week and will be in circulation beginning next Monday.

* * *

November 10-16 is book week, chosen this year for libraries, schools and book dealers to tell again the wonder, the breadth and depth of the world of books. This year's slogan is Books Are Bridges. They may be bridges to the past or to the future, to other lands and other peoples, to growing up, to facts or to fancy, or to fun and nonsense. All this week groups of books will be on display in the Children's room at the library. You are invited to come in, to see the displays, to borrow books, and perhaps get new suggestions for your own reading.

Are you interested in the past? BIG TREE by Buff is the story of a giant Sequoia tree, the oldest living thing in the world. The tree was standing when Christ was born, was an old tree when the Indians roamed our land and still stands, ancient and majestic, watching the life that goes on at its feet.

CUCHULAIN OF MUIRTHEMNE, pronounced, believe it or not, Kahoolin of Merhevn, was a hero of ancient Ireland. At the age of 7 he killed the fiercest dog in all Ireland. When he was a man, and it was time to choose the champion of Ulster (Ireland) it lay between Cuchulain, Conal and Laegaire. For the test the three were shut up in a room for the night. In came three monstrous cats. Conal and Laegaire climbed to the rafters, but Cuchulain killed the monsters. Those are only the simplest of his deeds.

THE STORY OF BEOWULF is about the great Danish hero who killed the monster Grendel after hundreds of men had failed. Either Cuchulain of Beowulf are bigger men than Superman will ever be.

First readers with imagination who like to visit the land of "Not Quite True" there are some perfect bridges. PRINCE GODFREY, by Gorska, was a mythical knight whose wondrous playing on a fiddle could conquer all evil. His courage and honesty won him great prizes. This book has exceptionally lovely illustrations.

MY FRIEND, MR. LEAKEY, by Haldane, is a magician. His octopus waiter, his pet dragon who lives in the fireplace, his magic wand and his magic carpet make any visit to Mr. Leakey unusual and exciting.

A DIPPER FULL OF STARS, by Williams, is a bridge to the skies.

OCEANS IN THE SKY, by Edelstat, tells the story of water by verse and photographs.

There will be other books, old folk tales, books of poems and of songs and two very lively Christmas tales.

Two of the books, TREASURE FOR THE TAKING, by Eaton, and BOOKS, CHILDREN, AND MEN, by Paul Hazard, are intended for adults who care to know more about children's books.

Bring your parents—you may want them to see the book you want for Christmas.

Nellie Buzenski Feted At Sattler Home

Mrs. Ted Sattler and Mrs. John Heckert entertained for Miss Nellie Buzenski, bride elect of Joseph Lehman, Tuesday night at the Sattler home on Maple street.

Prize for the evening was won by Miss Rose Romano. Miss Buzenski and Mr. Lehman will be married Nov. 30 in St. Peter's Catholic church.

St. John's Guild Hears Program; Revises By-Laws

The Guild of St. John's church had Mrs. Scott Taylor as program chairman yesterday afternoon, in the church parlors when Mrs. John Klinger gave a contralto solo and poems were read by Mrs. O. M. Garver. Mrs. Arminta Collins led the devotions.

Hostesses were Mrs. Jack Fisher, Mrs. Fred Foss and Mrs. Harry Frietchen. At the business meeting Mrs. Albert Krumm gave a report from the nominating committee. The committee in charge of the revision of the by-laws, Mrs. Oscar Schaller, Mrs. Carl Kalstein and Mrs. Henry Feidler, presented the revision, which was accepted.

An invitation from the Ladies Aid society to attend a luncheon Nov. 14 at the church was accepted. The next regular meeting of the Guild will be held Nov. 27 at the church.

Bride-Elect Is Honored

Miss Doris Kiraly, who will wed M. S. Strichler Nov. 30, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday night.

Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Earl L. Velzy and Mrs. John Stryker. The party was held at the Velzy home, Lexington avenue.

During the evening the guests made a bridesbook.

Franklin Art Club Meets At Hammet Residence

Mrs. Gale Hammet, Olivesburg road, served as hostess Wednesday at a meeting of the Franklin Art club with 28 members and two guests present.

Mrs. Helen Price presented an article on the national and state parks and Mrs. Vonie Oswalt gave a report on the Women's Federation meeting which was held in Columbus last month.

The annual gift auction of the group will be held Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. Emmet Cassler, Weller township at 2 p. m.

CLASSY LASSIES.

Plans for a Christmas party Dec. 18 were made at the meeting of the Classy Lassies last night at the home of Miss Eleanor Haver, Reba avenue. Miss Marjorie Miles and Mrs. Kenneth Wharton will be in charge of the party at Staiger's Tea Room. The Misses Helen Groman and Mary Stover were appointed in charge of the Christmas basket. Prizes were won by Misses Eleanor Herre and Beverly Miles. Miss Marjorie Miles will be hostess Dec. 4 at her home on Trimble road.

EXPERTS SEE EXCISE TAX CUTS COMING

Stiff Wartime Fees Likely to Be Reduced, Though Not Eliminated.

WASHINGTON —(ILP)— Republican tax experts believed today the new GOP-controlled congress would set July 1 for sharp reductions in the stiff wartime excise taxes on such things as jewelry telephone service, luggage, liquor and travel fare.

Present plans don't call for outright elimination of excise levies but for a cutback to prewar levels. In some cases, that would mean a 75 per cent reduction from present rates.

Rep. Harold Knutson, R., Minn., who will be chairman of the tax-writing house ways and means committee in the new congress, said excise reductions would be made in the second of two tax bills planned for next year.

The first, he said, will be a "quickie" measure after congress meets Jan. 3 for an immediate 20 per cent reduction in personal income taxes. The cut would be retroactive to Jan. 1 and would reduce treasury income by some $3,500,000,000 a year.

The second bill will deal with excise taxes and administrative sections of the present tax laws. No reduction in corporation taxes is contemplated next year.

Knutson did not say when he expected excise reductions to become effective but his aides said it probably would be with the start of the new fiscal year next July 1.

The only wartime excise tax repealed thus far was the $5 auto use levy. It was abolished last July 1.

The Truman administration has been reluctant to undertake early reduction of excise taxes on grounds they are an effective barrier against inflation. In the fiscal year ended last June, the 20 per cent tax on theater admissions alone returned the government $415,267,000. The 20 per cent jewelry tax returned $223,342,000, and the 15 per cent levy on passenger transportation, $226,749,000.

Air Depot Asks Bids on Surplus

Bids on approximately 40 items of surplus aeronautical materials, mostly scrap, will be accepted up to 9 a. m. next Monday by the contracting officer at the 831st AAF Specialized depot, Shelby, Lt. Col. S. H. Raymond, commanding officer, announced today.

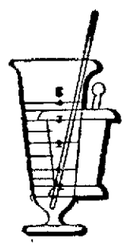
Included in the sale are 6,500 pounds of aluminum scrap, located at the Cleveland Army Air base; 1285 pounds of mixed scrap; 62,300 pounds of aircraft casings, and some salvageable material.

Bids, which will be opened at 9 a. m. Monday at Shelby, will be considered only for the entire quantity in each lot.

TEACHERS GET RAISE

NEWARK — (AP) — Salary increases ranging from $140 to $195 a year were granted Newark teachers at a school board meeting yesterday. Voters here approved a two-mill levy for financing the raises at last week's election.

A LESSON FROM THE CHINESE



● The story is told that the Chinese pay the doctor to keep them well, and if they contract illness, the doctor pays them instead. Whether or not this story is true, the general idea is sound. Serious illness often can be prevented by regular health examinations. Form a habit of visiting your doctor often—at least twice a year. If you do not have a family physician, we will be glad to recommend several from whom you can make your selection.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv.

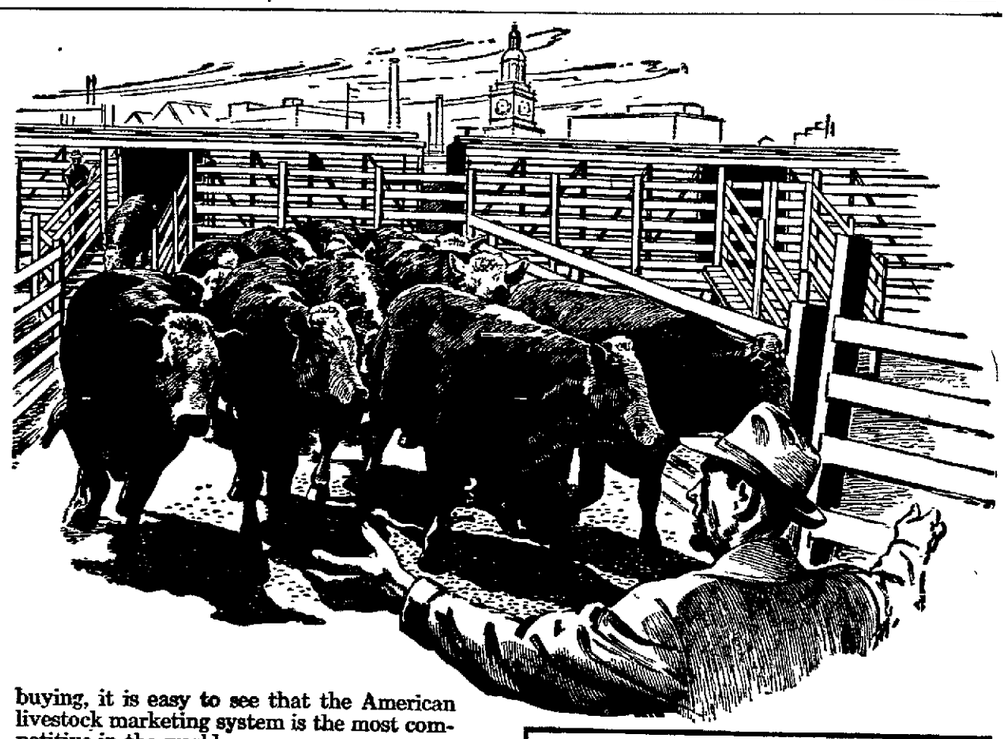
HOTELS for LIVESTOCK



The central livestock market is as American as the "hot dog." No other country has the like of it. European sellers and buyers haggle over individual animals. In South America most of the dealing is done right on the estancias, where the livestock is raised. But here in the leading livestock nation of the world, for 75 years central markets have played a big part in the job of moving meat toward dinner tables of the United States.

When a carload of livestock rolls off the prairies or out of the mountains into one of the 65 or more great central markets, the animals are "greeted" and "registered" at the unloading dock, much as travelers are received and registered in hotels. From there they are sent to their "rooms"—the pens assigned to the commission man to whom the owner has shipped his animals. There these hogs, cattle, calves and lambs are rested and given food and drink.

Just as hotels compete for guests, so these central markets compete with each other for the business of accommodating the 88 million head of livestock which come in each year. Thousands of livestock buyers and order buyers bid against each other and the sale is made to the highest bidder. With 26,000 meat packers and other commercial slaughterers active in livestock buying, it is easy to see that the American livestock marketing system is the most competitive in the world.

These "livestock hotels" are a separate branch of the livestock-meat industry. They are privately owned. Swift & Company does not own a single share of any stockyards company.

Soda Bill Sez:

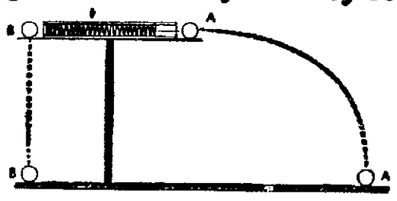
. . . if you want to realize that castle in the air, you had better get down to earth first.

Things Are NOT Always as They Seem



The mechanical device pictured above shoots the ball marked A and at the same instant drops the ball marked B straight down. It certainly looks as if B will hit the ground first, since ball A has so much farther to go. But the fact is that they will both strike the ground at precisely the same instant.

In our business, too, things are not always as they seem. On September 1, 1946, the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture reported that in the entire country there were 356 million pounds of meat stocks in cold storage. That is a lot of pounds. But actually it is the lowest on record for that date . . . and compares with 626 million a year ago and a 631-million average for 1941-1945. Here in America we eat about 50 million pounds of meat a day, so the September 1 supply of meat in cold storage was barely enough to feed us for seven days.

Thanksgiving

In this Thanksgiving month, the people of our nation—and of many other nations—owe a debt of gratitude to the ranchers and farmers of America. All through the war, in spite of its tremendous requirements, our people ate well. And in spite of sharing with the earth's hungry, our people are still eating well. Today, to be sure, not all the meat they would like to have . . . but plenty of nutritious food to keep them well and strong. That is because for long years millions of farm and ranch men, women and children have kept the food supply up, working harder than ever before, overcoming shortages of help and machinery and many other obstacles. Yes, Americans may well offer thanks this month to all those who produce our food.

OUR CITY COUSIN

Thought that there was little harm
In eating apples by the dozen...
Now he is our sickly cousin!

SPREAD

When visiting with livestock producers on farms or ranches, or at meetings, the subject of "spread" often comes up for discussion. Then I give them an explanation of the difference between the price they get for livestock and the price we meat packers receive for the meat we sell.

To me it is a source of continual surprise that the spread is not greater than it is. During my years of experience in the livestock-meat industry, here is what I have learned about spread. We at Swift & Company have been paying farmers and ranchers approximately 76¢, on the average, out of every dollar we receive from those to whom we sell, for all products we process and handle, including hides, glands, and all by-products. That leaves us 24¢ to cover the cost of processing and marketing.

Out of the 24¢ comes the cost of buying livestock and other agricultural products. The cost of preparation and refrigeration. The cost of loading them into cars and trucks. The cost of transporting them to our branch houses or to retailers. The cost of branch house operation and of selling and delivering the products to the retail dealers. In addition, we have taxes to pay; plus insurance and all the other necessary costs of doing business. When all these expenses have been paid, we make a profit, which over a period of years has averaged a fraction of a cent a pound on the 6½ billion pounds of products we handle annually.

There is no other business in the country that does so much for so little.

APPLE TORTE

Yield: 6 servings

1 tablespoon melted butter	½ cup sifted flour
1 egg	2 teaspoons baking powder
4 tart cooking apples	½ cup nutmeats
1 cup sugar	½ cup chopped raisins or dates
½ teaspoon vanilla

Pare and chop apples. Sift dry ingredients together. Combine all ingredients. Spread in a 9-inch square buttered cake pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes, or until apples are soft. Serve hot or cold with foamy or hard sauce.

PREPARATION OF CORN FOR CATTLE FEEDING

by P. S. Shearer
Iowa State College

How should Corn Belt cattle feeders prepare corn to get best results from their feeding? As ear corn, shelled corn, corn-and-cob meal, or ground shelled corn? The following may be helpful in deciding:

1. Are hogs following the cattle? If not, the evidence seems clear that grinding either the whole ear or shelled corn will pay. Feeding ear corn is especially wasteful if hogs are not following the cattle, or if lots are muddy and the hogs have little chance to salvage corn thrown out of the bunks or passed through the steers.

2. Is the corn hard or soft? Corn varieties differ greatly in hardness of kernel. Grinding hard corn is recommended, whereas grinding might not be needed with softer corn.

3. What will the preparation cost? Costs of shelling and grinding differ from farm to farm due to labor, power and other charges. If the cost exceeds the gains derived, preparation doesn't pay.

4. Will an experienced, careful feeder do the feeding? Corn-and-cob meal is rated as a safer preparation in the hands of inexperienced feeders than either shelled or ground shelled corn.

Corn is a good cattle feed any way it may be prepared and one will not go far wrong with any of the standard preparations. Even our damaged, moldy corn surprised many with its feeding value this past winter.

Motorist Charged — Elliot S. Evans, of Ashland, was arrested yesterday, on U. S. Route 42-N on a speeding charge by the state highway patrol. He posted $25 bond pending a hearing in municipal court.

Man Jailed — A man was held in city jail for investigation in the theft of a coat from a car owned by Floyd Finley, Perrysville, R. D. 1, early today. Police said the man had the coat in his possession when arrested.

Youth Held — A 15-year-old Mansfield youth was held in the detention ward at the Salvation Army today after he was picked up by Police yesterday for investigation in the theft of a bicycle from in front of Hunt's News store on North Main street.

Permits Issued — Three building permits were issued yesterday. Victor S. Hawk, 318 Park avenue west, received a permit to make an addition to his garage at a cost of $100; Mrs. B. C. Crall, 91 Greenwood avenue, to remodel a back porch, $400, and J. W. Miller, 110 Glessner avenue, addition to rear of shop, $400.

Investigator Reappointed—County commissioners today had reappointed Carl A. Dellenbaugh, Columbus, as their special investigator in auditing and checking bills and records of the state public welfare department for the maintenance of the county's feeble minded patients. Effective Jan. 1, 1947, Dellenbaugh's appointment calls for a salary of $15 per month, or a maximum of $180.

County Receives Money—County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe reported receipt of $41,482 from the state auditor's office today. Of the total, $38,204 is the November allocation of local government funds and is to be distributed in December to villages, corporations and the county itself on the basis of tax collections. The remainder consisted of a federal contribution of $1,598 to the aid to dependent children program and a state-federal contribution of $1,880 to the aid to blind fund.

Barclay On Bridge

MANY PRETTY fair players have learned to apply the rule of eleven efficiently to fourth-best leads against a hostile No Trump game, and also to figure out the situation when an "honor combination" has been opened with one of the "touching honors." They have more trouble, however, with "top of nothing" leads, and can't decide whether they indicate a doubleton or a trebleton. Sometimes these are very readable as being from three cards, since if only two had been held, the declarer would have had four and so would have bid the suit.

An expert defensive pair was on the job when West led his spade 9. An ordinary player in the East would have played his A mechanically on the principle of "third hand high" or "don't finesse against your partner"—those point-costing obsolete Whist rules. But this East did some figuring.

The 9 is never led as a fourth-best, as with three honors above it some two would be touching and therefore command an honor lead from the touchers. Hence West had either three or two, of which the 9 was the top. But if he had only two, South would have had four headed by the K-Q-10 and so would have bid the spades. Consequently West had exactly three. He also had at least a couple of high card tricks for reentry. So East planned to seek three spade tricks by ducking the first and playing the 8.

South false-carded by winning with the K, then led the diamond 3. West won and returned the spade 6. East completed his come-on signal with the finish of his high-low, the 2, the Q winning. Again Sout led a diamond to West. This time the spade 4 came back to the A, which dropped the 10. The spade 7 and 5 then set the contract.

If East had played the A on the first spade, South would have scored game, with three tricks in diamonds and two in each other suit.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

What America Needs Is Good 5-Minute Kiss, Says Doctor

By ROBERT RICHARDS

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — What America needs, the doctor said, is not a five-cent cigar, but a good five-minute kiss—in the home.

If the average U. S. citizen (adult, married, and male) could keep his mind on his romance, temporarily forsaking all bookies, it might clip the sky-riding divorce mart by at least 50 per cent.

Dr. James F. Bender, director of the National Institute of Human Relations, a psychologist who gets paid for solving such problems, figures that the ordinary American husband's kiss carries all the warmth of a rubber glove.

"And that's bad," the doctor said, shaking his head, and checking into his case histories. "It's very bad, and something should be done about it."

The American public, living in a scientific age, gets off on the wrong foot at the start.

"At present kissing is very unpopular in the puerile, or infant, stage," Bender pointed out. "Parents dodge kissing their children. They're afraid of spreading germs.

"They're right about the germs, but wrong around the kisses. A child needs them. If he grows up minus natural affection, he feels insecure, and perhaps never really appreciates the value of kissing."

Bender said that many Americans, pressed by the continuous demands of civilization, have all but forgotten the "biological" kiss. That's the one with the high octane zip. It makes the parlor lights blink out.

"Lack of knowledge about the biological kiss causes about 15 per cent of the nation's so-called 'white marriages,'" he explained.

To psychologists, a "white marriage" is one in which definite incompatibility develops.

"In the Latin nations they pay more attention to the kiss, and they don't have such troubles to any great degree," he said. "We should teach our own young men the importance of the biological kiss. But, of course, we don't recommend too free use before marriage.

"But we believe that they should study up on the subject. They should be ready when marriage comes. After all, such things are the full responsibility of the male."

The husband who develops a "five-minute kiss" may still have his hours of woe, but Psychologist Bender think he can be promised one blessing

His wife won't go to Reno.

MINISTER VIEWS 'atomic cake' photo—The Rev. A. Powell Davies of All Souls' Unitarian church, in Washington, studies a picture of two admirals grinning oven an angel food cake in the mushroom shape of an atomic explosion. From his pupit earlier in the day the pastor termed the picture, published in a Washington newspaper, as "utterly loathsome." The officers are Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy (left) and Rear Adm. F. J. Lowry. Mrs. Blandy is with them. (Associated Press wirephoto.)

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Big 4 Again At Odds On Trieste Issue

MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1946 TELEPHONE 4251-6 PAGE THIRTEEN

Winchell — On Broadway

THE EAVESDRIPPERS are still tittering about this one. A Broadwaddy was entertaining a chorine. After ½ doz. snifters she began to shway from shide to shide.

"Say," said the payboy, "I think you had too much to drink."

"Imposhible," she hic'd, "you still look ugly."

* * *

Some Communist! Just before the elections movie star Paulette Goddard went on the air with Gregory Peck and Will Rogers, jr. They advocated voting for the Fair Employment Act, whereupon Adolphe Menjou went on the same radio to shout "Communist!"

"You oughta sue him for libel," a pal suggested to Paulette.

"Oh, no," she replied. "The next time I see him I'll just hit him on the head with one of my diamond necklaces."

* * *

Oops!: A cub reporter was readying an obit on an aging editor. The cub asked a veteran on the copy desk if he could say that a newspaperman was a former drama critic.

"Sure," chuckled the old-timer, "but never say a drama critic was a newspaperman."

* * *

They were discussing the N. Y Gubernatorial campaign.

"After Dewey's speeches," someone said, "I'm convinced he'd make a great president."

"Yeah," flipped a reporter, "of the N. Y. Stock Exchange!"

* * *

"I'm in favor of a Republican president," said a Stork Clubber. "When they are in power there is more money circulating."

"Yeh," intoned a columnist, "but among fewer people."

* * *

MAUGHAM SHORT - SHORT: When Somerset Maugham wrote "The Painted Veil" (first published serially as a mag piece) he called a couple of his keddickters "Lane" and he used Hong Kong as the setting. A Mr. and Mrs Lane of that city sued and collected. Maugham then renamed the characters "Fane." An ass't Colonial sec'y promptly sued for libel. By this time the novel was on the presses. It was recalled and Hong Kong was altered to Tching-Yen. Mr. Maugham now picks his characters' names from the Obit pages of the Times.

* * *

RAY SHANNON relays the one about the medicine show playing thru Indiana. Each night after the asbestos fell (on some stale play acted by stale hams), an old doctor announced the next night's attraction.

On this particular night the old faker startled the cast by stating that "Lady Windermere's Fan" would be the next play. The cast was stupefied. One actor yelled: "But, doctor, we aren't up in that one!"

"Tomorrow night," barked the old doc, "we play 'Lady Windermere's Fan' and gahd help any of you who calls her 'Madame X'!"

* * *

AT EL CHICO we heard about a struggling author who told his wife: "Honey, I've just sold my book! Now we'll have plenty of money and we'll move in best cafe society circles!"

"Wheee!" she said. "Plenty of money and cafe society! Now I can get some indecent evening gowns!"

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK—In reading "The Plotters" by a young fellow who calls himself John Roy Carlson, I type him as a cops-and-robbers character, troubled by fear. This book is a sequel to a best seller called "Under Cover," which ran a score of 700,000 during the war and a gross sale at retail of $2,450,000, and was, as the author says in the preface to the new book, "prominently displayed on army library shelves." Although he admits that Carlson is his "pen name" and says he has never made a secret of his real name, I find no mention of his real name, Derounian, anywhere in "Under Cover" or "The Plotters."

We have had this kind in the newspaper business here and there, fellows who were police buffs or fans and played detective. I remember one whose expense account once contained the item "to disguises, $25," and set the city room to kidding him about false whiskers and nose-putty. He bobbed up in the army as a major, no less, doing "intelligence" work during the war, although honestly the stuff he turned up by Sherlocking around with a calling list of pickpockets and underworld gossips any city-side reporter with a reasonable personal acquaintance in the police department could have gathered by phone.

I don't fault our hero for using a monicker here and there in joining a lot of kluxy organizations to get their silly secrets, but I am beginning to get just a little petulant over the recurring suggestion that bigotry, racial ferocity and all the ornery traits of humankind are found exclusively among Anglo-Saxons. I could stray off along some interesting bypaths pursuing this, but let us get back to the reason why I think Derounian has throat trouble, as they say in the baseball business of a man who chokes up with fear in the clutches

He says he "had a close call" when he went calling on Bob Reynolds, then a senator from North Carolina and "a strong Nationalist and America Firster," and I will have to interrupt myself again to say that this fellow is dead against Nationalism. He even speaks of one person as "a notorious Nationalist" in a way to suggest that patriotism were felonious.

* * *

THIS NOTORIOUS Nationalist was a woman employed in Reynolds' outer office and our boy sort of hid his face and nerved out the ordeal of waiting. He had abused her in "Under Cover" and was afraid she recognized him. His "heart sank" when she passed a note to another woman at a desk and he was "sweating it out" when Reynolds came out to greet him.

"Was Mrs. Washburn," the notorious Nationalist, "waiting until I was with Reynolds before exposing me, or were some of 'the boys' being gathered for a little 'reception' to their ex-pal?" he writes.

His visit with Reynolds was untroubled, but still "once on the street," he says, "I made sure I wasn't followed."

Well, now, Bob Reynolds is a big fellow, to be sure, and Derounian, I understand, can make 135. But, in the first place, Reynolds is strictly a gab-man, a carnival professor to the life, not a scrapper, and moreover, weight and size are heavily discounted by years and sedentary living. A fairly healthy lightweight of Derounian's youth probably could scratch him up in a short scuffle and if Reynolds had grabbed him to lean his weight on him, there still would have been things a little guy could do.

Never me to advocate a boycott or suppression of anyone's book, except for filth or falsehood. But the 700,000 who bought "Under Cover," and probably twice that number who read it, probably thought they were reading the truth by an honest and courageous crusader against enemies within. And now a federal judge, after hearing all the evidence in a suit against Dutton, says it made outrageous charges, wholly unfounded, and sends Derounian on his way, soliciting your confidence and your money, for his new book under the stigmatic sign "I wouldn't believe him on oath, now or at any time hereafter."

Lippmann — Today and Tomorrow

IT WILL take some doing, if congress and the president are to honor the pledges which they have exchanged. It is easier for them to say they will cooperate than it will be for them to do it.

It will be more than a matter of overcoming the division between the two parties. Each of the parties is itself divided into factions. The Democrats are no longer united by an agreed program, party discipline and recognized leaders; the Republicans have not yet achieved a program, a discipline and leaders who unite them.

The titular leaders — for the Democrats: Mr. Truman, Mr. Barkley, Mr. Rayburn and Mr. McCormack; for the Republicans: Mr. Taft, Mr. Vandenberg, Mr. Martin—can agree upon joint national action only after they have come to terms with the divergent and rival factions in their own ranks.

With the election of 1948 impending, with Mr. Truman still a candidate, the Republicans will be sorely tempted to make a public spectacle of Mr. Truman's helplessness.

* * *

THE BEST of the Republicans will not wish to treat him as a political prisoner, trussed up and caged for torture. But all the Republicans are not the best Republicans.

Important Democrats will be no less tempted to exploit his helplessness. Knowing that Mr. Truman cannot be re-elected, their main concern will not be to win control of the national government in 1948, but to win control of the basic and indestructible elements of the party organization.

Despite the excellent words that have been spoken, the prospects of joint action are at present poor, the premium on disagreement is high. The situation is very grave indeed, and unless extraordinary measures are taken to deal with it, there is every probability that the next two years will see a crisis of government of dangerous proportions to this country and to the world.

This is not, to be sure, the first time that the country has had a divided control of the government. But familiarity should not breed complacency. We had a divided government after the Civil war and after the first World war, and these precedents are no comfort but on the contrary an awful warning.

The reunion and the reconstruction of the country were delayed for a generation after the Civil war; divided government after the first World war left the country so divided and confused in the next 20 years that it could do nothing to prevent, and it did pitiably little to prepare against the second World war.

* * *

AGAIN we have a divided government — this time after the greatest of all wars, with no peace as yet agreed to, or in sight, or even outlined and projected, and with the whole economy of the world, including our own, impoverished and dislocated.

The settlement of this war, and the reconstruction, cannot be mastered without strong, purposeful and coherent government in the United States. We do not have it. We cannot trust to our luck that somehow we shall drift safely into port. We shall not be let off cheaply. We cannot count on getting by with generalities, amiable but lazy expressions of good intentions.

We shall have to make an extraordinary effort of heart and mind to surmount the crisis of government which is now developing. For the times are exceptionally troubled, and the government as now constituted and manned is exceptionally weak.

Youth Center Members Have 'Broadcast'

WILLARD—An innovation for youth centers in the form of a "pretend broadcast" over the public address system was begun last week at the Willard Youth Center, according to Mrs. Dale Williams, supervisor.

The "broadcasts," written, arranged and directed by members of the center, are expected to be amplified in the future with people in the streets able to hear the programs.

The committee for the initial program, sponsored by the Federated Stores, was Janice Good, Sally Boyle, Charles Klopfenstein, Sara Evans, Fred Scofield, Joan Herion and James Amstutz.

Different groups of young people will be responsible for future "broadcasts," Mrs. Williams said, and prizes for those taking part will be awarded by Willard business concerns.

The supervisor said also that "good neighbor" visits have been scheduled with Youth Center groups at Ashland, Crestline, Shelby and Norwalk for an interchange of ideas on activities and management.

SUNSHINE CLUB MEETS ALL-DAY

MILLERSBURG—The Sunshine club will meet at the home of Mrs. Ralph Wheaton, west of Millersburg, Thursday for an all-day meeting. A covered-dish luncheon will be served at noon with Mrs. Don Smith assisting the hostess.

Mrs. Louise Mathie is arranging a program which Mrs. Deane Uhl, Mrs. Ralph Wheaton, Mrs. Charles Shearer and Mrs. Alice Clouse will present. Vocal selections will be by the quartette, Mrs. J. G. Crawford, Mrs. Gilbert Snyder, Mrs. William Ling and Mrs. Harold Hanna.

* * *

Better Gardens club will close their year's program when they meet at the home of Mrs. A. T. Cole, North Clay street, Friday evening.

SCHOOL BLAST KILLS ONE, INJURES 17—Two investigations were under way today into the boiler explosion at the Baroda (Mich.) consolidated school. (International soundphoto at top.) A 13-year-old child was killed and 16 other students and a teacher were injured in the blast shortly before noon yesterday. Rescue workers (AP wirephoto, bottom) working from inside the school are shown attempting to cut through the debris in search of victims. Eyewitnesses said the explosion tore through a second floor room where 15 students were studying. Most of the injured suffered from shock, burns from scalding water, cuts and bruises. An orderly evacuation was made by the approximately 250 uninjured still in the building at time of the blast.

Master of National Grange Flays Control Regulations

PORTLAND, Ore. —(AP)— Continued high farm production and elimination of acreage-control regulations were advocated by Albert S. Goss, master of the National grange, as the organization opened its 80th annual convention yesterday.

In an address for delivery to delegates from 36 states, Goss warned that under the high production program surpluses were inevitable but asserted the problem was not insurmountable.

The world needs the food this country produces and when surpluses occur, the machinery for their disposition must exist at the internal level, he said.

Goss struck at acreage control as a "regimented economy of scarcity hard to defend." He said further that he doubted the legal authority of the secretary of agriculture to "inject the acreage allotment program as a requisite for receiving price supports."

There are only three courses open, he said: reduced production through acreage controls; a program of letting nature take its course with surpluses forcing lower prices which in turn cuts production; or a recognition that "plentiful production is in the public interest" with occasional inevitable surpluses being diverted to inferior uses.

Increased consumption, he said, holds part of the answer to the problem of disposal of high production, with research into food distribution a factor through lowering prices for consumers.

Goss said the proposal of Sir John Orr, director general of the food and agricultural organization, for a world food board to buy when prices are low and sell when they are high "needs further study to make it practicable," but if it can be put into workable form it would be "a practical means of nations working together to solve problems which have heretofore led to great distress, strife and even to war."

Turning to other topics, Goss said the grange favored including farm workers in the social security program so far as old age and retirement benefits are concerned; believed placement of transient farm labor should be under the department of agriculture; and continued to believe in a co-operative farmer-owned self-help credit system for agriculture.

PRAISES WATER SAFETY STAFF

(Reprinted from yesterday's late edition)

Special tribute was paid to the Red Cross water safety volunteers yesterday by Fred Bardsley, director of first aid and water safety, before the monthly board meeting of the Richland county Red Cross chapter.

Reporting on the water safety programs, held last summer at Liberty park and North Lake park pools and in Shelby, Bardsley said that success of the program would have been impossible without the help of the young men and women swimmers in Mansfield who gave their time to the project.

Progress of Junior Red Cross enrollment in the city's public schools was reported by Mrs. Ephraim Brown, who said that of five schools already participating in the program, four have 100-per cent enrollments. They are Prospect, Robbins kindergarten, Maplegrove and Lincoln Heights. Senior high school was reported to have an 80 per cent enrollment.

Presiding at the meeting was Sam Campbell, chairman of the Richland county chapter.

MOLOTOV FACES OPPOSITION BY BEVIN, BYRNES

Russians Revert to Former Demands, Previously Rejected in Paris.

NEW YORK—(INS)—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin will join forces today against a Russian move before the council of foreign minister aimed to radically revising the Paris-approved statute of Trieste.

At a meeting of the council fixed for 4 p. m. at the Waldorf Towers, both Byrnes and Bevin are expected to take issue with 14 amendments to the statute placed before the council last night by Soviet Foreign Commissar Viacheslav Molotov.

French Uncertain.

The attitude of France's representative at the Big Four roundtable, Deputy Foreign Minister Couve de Murville, is less clearly defined in view of the recent French elections but it will be recalled that he personally sponsored and submitted to the Paris conference of twenty-one nations the draft subsequently given a two-thirds vote is to be recognized as fundamentally valid.

American and British circles, and to some extent the French, again made it clear that they continue to recognize that vote as tantamount to a mandatory order to include the recommendation in the treaty. By introducing 14 new amendments basically altering the concept of the statute, Molotov automatically reaffirmed his contrary viewpoint.

In the seventh meeting on Tuesday, Byrnes reiterated he had no objection to making some normal adjustments and changes in the statute whenever the Big Four are in unanimous agreement, but that the basic principles must be retained.

Would Limit Governor.

Competent observers sitting in at the sessions said that the Russian proposals strike primarily at the powers of the Trieste governor given him in the draft statute.

Molotov has been a foe of the French-proposed statute draft from the beginning, sponsoring Yugoslavian demands that a popular assembly and powerful government of the free city supersede the governor in executive power

Molotov singled out each of the clauses in the statute dealing with the position and powers of the governor, and laid down amendments known to limit his executive prerogatives and make him more or less an administrative official responsible largely to the government of the free territory.

Two amendments submitted by Molotov indicate that he is disinclined to accept the United Nations security council as the unquestioned master of the free territory. In a previous session, Molotov demanded that Allied troops leave the city within three or four months after the Italian treaty becomes effective.

Diplomatic observers pointed out that Molotov has practically reverted to Soviet proposals—similar to those of Yugoslavia itself—laid before the peace conference last summer and rejected.

CITY SELECTED AS TEST CENTER

(Reprinted from yesterday's late edition)

Mansfield has been selected by the Navy department as a testing center for high school students aspiring to be among the 5,000 selected throughout the nation for free college educations under the navy's new programs, the Mansfield Navy recruiting station announced today.

Two programs, a naval reserve officers training corps, and a navy aviators college program, are being offered to the winners of the competitive examinations to be held on Jan. 18, 1947.

Successful candidates, who also must pass physical examinations, may select a college of their choice from among 52 approved by the navy. The educational grant includes four years tuition with books, normal fees and $50 a month.

Students must agree to accept commissions in the navy as ensigns or second lieutenants in the Marine corps upon graduation. After two years' service they may resign and return to civilian life with commissions in the organized reserve corps.

Application blanks and descriptive bulletins stating requirements are available in the office of the Mansfield Senior high school. Applications must reach the naval examining sections college entrance board at Princeton, N. J., by Dec. 7.

$12 Daily Refused By Veterinarians

BUCYRUS — Tuberculin testing of Crawford county's estimated 20,000 cattle, required by state law, faced delay today as county commissioners and veterinarians were unable to agree on a rate for the work.

Veterinarians have refused to accept the $12-a-day offer of commissioners on the grounds of increased costs of materials and supplies.

COUNTY COURT SKED ANNOUNCED

Somber Warning Sounded

By ROBERT VINCENT

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Despite all precautions, there probably will be an increase in the number of hunting accidents this year.

That somber warning was sounded today by Conservation Commissioner H. A. "Buck" Rider as some one million nimrods—an all-time record number — oiled their guns in preparation for the opening tomorrow noon of Ohio's rabbit and bird season.

"The only way to prevent it," Rider said, "is for each hunter to figure that he may be the unlucky one. If he's that careful, we may see a reduction. Otherwise—" and he left the sentence unfinished.

The commissioner emphasized that he didn't "want to throw cold water on the greatest sport," but pointed out two factors which would—unless carefully guarded against—change sport to tragedy.

One was the record number of hunters, including thousands of ex-GI's who have been taught to shoot fast. The other was the war-souvenir guns which those GI's brought home from overseas, but which will not stand the strain of modern high velocity American ammunition.

"Make d—n sure," Rider warned Ohioans earnestly, "that your gun will withstand American ammunition. If you have a fancy European or Japanese gun, or a gun which was the pride of your pappy and your grandpappy and which he handed down to you, hang it over the mantel. That's the only safe place for it."

Rider said that most imported shotguns, together with nearly all old-fashioned American weapons, have barrels of Damascus or "twist" steel, which will not withstand the breech shock of nitro ammunition. Such barrels were made for black powder only.

Rider also issued another warning, but one that is applicable only to the poacher or game hog. He stated that because of the still critical game situation and the large number of hunters, hunting laws will be enforced to the letter."

That means that any hunter with more than four rabbits or two pheasants—the daily bag limit and the total possession limit —will have to tell it to a judge. There will be no excuses accepted by the men in green uniforms.

The game crop was said to be better than last year, with a "considerable" increase in rabbits and "some" increase in pheasant and ruffed grouse. The Hungarian partridge shows a slight decline.

Even rabbits and pheasants, however, are far below the 1941 peak year, Rider said, and are apt to be "spotty" in location. His game statements were based on reports from 6,400 farmers throughout the state.

Because many hunting license issuers have run out of licenses and have asked for more, Rider predicted an all-time record number of 750,000 nimrods wearing licenses in the center of their backs, plus "at least" a quarter of a million more that may hunt without licenses on their own lands.

That means a million or more hunters shooting away the still-scarce supply of shotgun shells—or one of every seven men, women and children in the state.

GI's still in service may again hunt without licenses this year, but they must be in uniform and actually still in service, Rider said.

The previous record high number of licenses issued was in 1941, when 613 000 licenses were taken out In 1943, in the midst of the war, the total dropped to less than a half-million—about 491,000.

Eight Clubs To Play In 56 Contests

Fifty-six league games are on the Richland county basketball schedule released today by Supt. Boyd Robinson.

Official loop season opens Friday, Nov. 22, although most of the county quintets will swing into action before then. Opening night's schedule finds Shiloh at Bellville, Ontario at Lexington, Lucas at Butler and Plymouth at Union.

Butler won the 1945-46 league title with Lucas notching honors in the county tournament.

Coaches of the county teams follow: Orville Kibler, Bellville; Edward Wysocki, Butler; John Reese, Lexington; W. S. Barger, Lucas; R. C. Lindsey, Plymouth; Daryle Heiser, Shiloh; Richard Casad, Ontario, and Fred Larue, Union.

Two complete rounds of play make up the 1946-47 county schedule.

Several Rams Likely All-League Picks

By BRUCE M'GINTY

All-league selections of the Northeastern Buckeye football loop will be announced at a dinner meeting next Monday night at the Bank restaurant in Loudonville.

Mansfield Madison placed second in the six team league with four wins and one defeat.

Coach Jeff DeHaven announced that Dick Ernsberger, leading Rams scorer with six touchdowns and 10 extra points by placement should be one of the selections in the fullback berth on the all-league team.

STANDINGS	W.	L.	Pts.	Op.
Orrville	5	0	168	13
Madison	4	1	113	24
Doylestown	3	2	61	97
Loudonville	2	3	80	68
Rittman	2	3	55	104
Millersburg	0	5	7	177

Jack Herr, who compiled 719 yards in 70 attempts with the pigskin, an average of 10.7 yards a try, is another likely candidate for a halfback berth. Herr scored seven TD's and one extra point, a total of 43 points. Ernsberger gained 379 yards in 71 attempts, an average of 5.3 yards a try.

Jack Cleckner, Rams captain, Chuck Campbell, Mike Tormaschy, Eldon Pritchard, Martin Hall, all linemen, and Herb Eldridge, halfback, are other honor team possibilities.

Eldridge scooted 333 yards in 50 trips for 6.7 yards a try and accounted for six Ram touchdowns.

Madison rolled up 2,164 yards to 1,249 for its opponents and compiled 85 first downs to the opposition's 61.

Dick Brown made the longest run of the season in the Rittman contest charging 95 yards for a touchdown on the opening kickoff of the second half.

Prostate Gland Trouble?

I'm a railroad man and for over 3 years had difficulty working because of backaches due to Prostate Gland trouble. Doctor's formula proved of great benefit and before and since his death have sold them (now called Watt's Suppositories) to railroad men and others the country over. Fine testimonials and repeat business show the good work they do. Backache, getting up nights, often indicate an inflamed Prostate Gland. I guarantee your money back if not given relief. One Dozen Watt's Suppositories, $1 25; 2¼ dozen for $2.50. For Sale at Lautsbaugh Pharmacy.—Adv.

VETERAN SNAPPER—Tom Emerson will be rounding out his second year of varsity ball tomorrow night when the Mansfield Tygers play at Martins Ferry. Emerson won his letter in 1945 at center and end, while the snapper-back post has claimed his attention this season. He has been alternating with Dave Wentz in recent games and may be in the starting lineup against the Riders.—(News-Journal photo)

Shelby Practices On Ashland Court

SHELBY — Shelby high school cagers practiced on the Ashland college court this week as the junior class play rehearsals were held in the Whippets gymnasium-auditorium.

The play will be given tonight and the hoopsters will return to their own floor Monday afternoon.

Coach Charles Williams expects his squad to swell to 45 when footballers report Monday The grid players enjoyed a week of rest before reporting.

Bucyrus Gridder at Center

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— James F. Troutman, a converted tackle from Bucyrus, O., may get the call at center for Carnegie Tech in its grid game with the University of Buffalo here Saturday. Troutman would replace Ceebee Groomes of Cheswick, regular pivot man whose ribs were injured again last Saturday.

Three veterans — Dave Connelly, Bill Lucas and Dick Seitz—form the nucleous of the 1946-47 Whippet squad.

Buckeyes Face Final Drill for Illini Today

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Ohio State gridders hold their last full scale workout today before Saturday's game at Illinois — a game they must win to retain a chance for the Western conference title.

A victory at Champaign would mean that the Big Nine championship would be at stake in the Nov. 23 homecoming finale here against Michigan, unless Wisconsin upset the Wolverines at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Ohio State, sporting a three-game victory string and with an offense that tops the Western conference in yardage gained, will meet an Illinois squad in better physical shape than at any time this year and well rested after an open date last week-end.

The Bucks have only one important injury—second-string halfback Jerry Krall's twisted knee resulting from the game here with Pitt. Krall was off his crutches yesterday and may be ready for the Michigan game, but it is almost a certainty Coach Paul Bixler won't risk further damage to the speedy Toledo left half by using him against the Illini.

Yesterday the Bucks concentrated on defense—in the air and on the ground. Today the emphasis is expected to shift to offense, and Bixler will select a 36-man squad to leave for Champaign Friday morning. So far no changes have been made in the Ohio starting lineup that was used against Northwestern and Pitt.

Fight Results

BINGHAMTON, N. Y.—Rollie Horne, 146, Niles, O., knocked out King David Weaver, 155, New York in 50 seconds of the first round in a scheduled six.

TOLEDO, O.—Irish Mickey Doyle, 160, Cleveland, decisioned Bobby Berger, 161, Chicago (10): Frankie Gerrard, 118, Toledo, decisioned Paul Carbetta 120, Mansfield (8).

RALPH MAJORS BIDS FOR ALL-OHIO TEAM

Latest statistics on the Mansfield Tyger football team show that Ralph Majors, the hard-driving right half, is the workhorse of Paul Snyder's fine outfit.

The veteran ball toter shared the spotlight with Kenny Horvath in the first six contests and has blossomed out as one of the Buckeye state's top All-Ohio candidates. Horvath was leading the Tyger ground-gainers and scorers when he suffered a broken leg three weeks ago.

MAJORS

Horvath tallied eleven touchdowns and carted the pigskin for 571 yards in 94 trips. At the time of his injury, Kenny and Bill Gregus of Toledo Waite were rated as Ohio's top fullbacks.

Majors has toted the pigskin 806 yards through some of the finest defensive lines in the state and has counted nine touchdowns. His ground-eating average is 6.7 yards, compiled on 121 excursions into the secondary.

In passing Majors ranks behind Ollie Cline but he leads the receivers with 12 catches for 247 yards. Majors has completed four of nine tosses, two for TD's while Cline has hit receivers 20 times in 43 tosses.

Bill McKee, the blond bullet, is third in scoring and ground-gainers. He has counted 30 points and gained 415 yards on 51 carries. His average of 8.2 is tops for the squad.

Mansfield winds up its season tomorrow night on the Martins Ferry gridiron. The Tygers will take the field as slight favorites although Ferry reputedly has one of the finest defensive teams in the state.

Snyder's charges are in pretty good condition with the exception of giant Tackle Dave Boals, whose "ouchy" ankle is still giving him trouble. Bob Rondy is expected to be back in the starting lineup at tackle with either Dick Logan or Ray Beard holding down the other spot if Boals is unable to go.

The 30-man Tyger squad leaves for Martins Ferry tomorrow morning at 9:30. The gridders will stay overnight in Wheeling and return Saturday afternoon.

Cleveland Barons Back In Puck League Lead

Cleveland's victorious Barons bounded back into a first-place tie with the Indianapolis Capitols in the Western division of the American Hockey league today.

The Cleveland club ripped Pittsburgh, 7 to 2, last night on the Hornets' ice while the Caps battled the Bisons to a 3 to 3 draw at Buffalo.

Joe Brown Kayoes 'Irish' Richards

Joe Brown, Mansfield heavyweight, ran his knockout string to two straight by putting away "Irish" Pat Richards in the first round of a scheduled eight-round headliner at Buckeye Lake last night.

Two terrific rights ended Richards in two minutes, 45 seconds. Brown will fight one of the three eight-round goes on the Bx VFW Christmas show in the Armory on November 27.

Paul Carbetta, local featherweight star, dropped his third pro decision in 22 bouts last night in Toledo. Clever Frankie Gerrard outpointed Paul in eight-rounds.

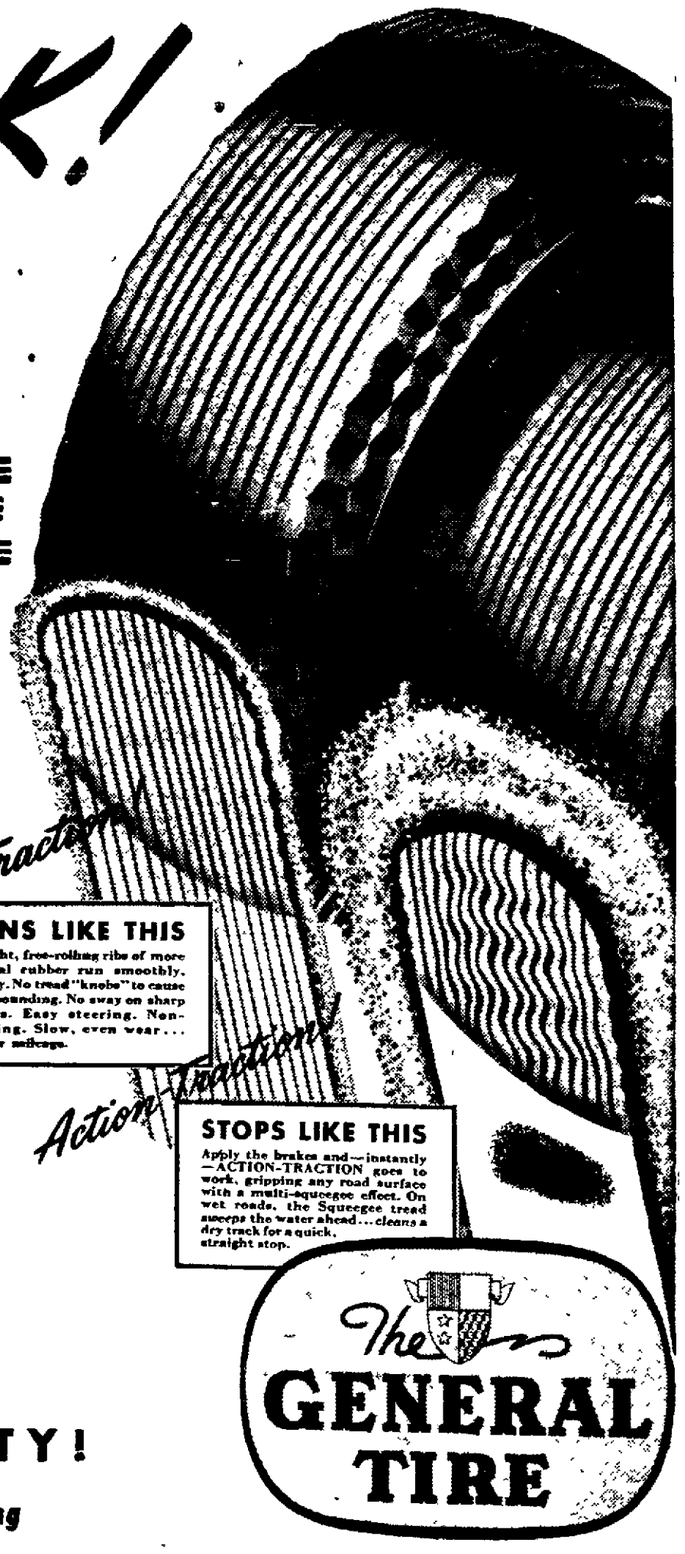
Action-Traction IS BACK!

The GENERAL SQUEEGEE TIRE

NOW YOU CAN HAVE ALL THE TIRE QUALITY MONEY CAN BUY

- Quiet Running of Straight, free-rolling ribs
- Quick-stopping safety of "action-traction"
- Safer extra mileage of more natural rubber
- Blowout protection of extra carcass strength

COSTS MORE . . . WORTH MORE



Action-Traction

RUNS LIKE THIS
Straight, free-rolling ribs of more natural rubber run smoothly, quietly. No tread "knobs" to cause road pounding. No sway on sharp curves. Easy steering. Non-capping. Slow, even wear . . . Longer mileage.

STOPS LIKE THIS
Apply the brakes and—instantly—ACTION-TRACTION goes to work, gripping any road surface with a multi-squeegee effect. On wet roads, the Squeegee tread sweeps the water ahead . . . cleans a dry track for a quick, straight stop.

Tippy Dye's Buck Hoop Artists Average Shade Under Six-Four

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—William (Tippy) Dye, Ohio State's vest-pocket basketball coach, announced today he had cut his Buckeye cage squad from 200 to 90 candidates and had a temporary varsity that averaged a shade under 6 feet 4 inches in height.

This would be the rangiest Ohio State squad that ever took the floor, although Center Jack Underman at 6 feet 6 inches would not equal the 6 feet 9 inches Arnold Risen brought to the pivot at the start of last season.

As the cagers lined up at last night's practice, the tentative starting five would show Freshman Bob Winters of Xenia, 6 feet 3 inches, and Les Pugh of Middletown, 6 feet 4½ inches, at the forwards; Underman, a Columbus product, at center; Captain Paul Huston of Xenia and Freshman Jim Campbell of Columbus, both 6 feet 3 inches, at the guards.

Close behind them were Jack Pfeiffer of Toledo at center, Wayne Wells of Lima at guard, Jim Wells of Middletown at forward, and Bob Bowen of Martins Ferry at forward.

The two tentative starting forwards, Pugh and Winters, both played on state high school championship teams. Another freshman who has made a niche for himself is Jim Harris, at only 5 feet 9 inches still one of the finest shotmakers on the squad.

Way Cleared For Bowl Bid

WEST POINT, N. Y.—(AP)—Earl Blaik's Cadets went into the final stages of their preparation for Penn with added zest today after learning that the war department has given official clearance for Army's acceptance of a possible Rose Bowl invitation.

Should the Army get a bid to Pasadena, the final decision as to whether the Black Knights will make the trip will be made by Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, sports-minded superintendent of the academy.

The war department made the announcement after being beset by inquiries whether there was any chance the Army might reverse its policy against post-season football games. If the bid is extended, "the way has been cleared for a prompt 'yes or no decision' by the superintendent," Washington said

Meanwhile, Pacific coast conference officials maintained a close-lipped "no comment" attitude although newspapermen on the coast clung to the belief that Rose Bowl overtures had been made to Army.

POSTMASTER ON BOND

COLUMBUS—(AP)—George R. Daubenmire, 45, charged with falsifying government postal records in Pleasantville, Fairfield county, where he had been postmaster since 1935, was released under $1,000 bond yesterday by U. S. Commissioner Robert W. Newlon pending federal court action. Newlon said postal agents accused Daubenmire of filling out vouchers for money to pay extra clerks and then not hiring the clerks and keeping sums amounting to "a little over $300."

WORKERS NEEDED

HAMILTON—(AP)—The Hamilton housing commission estimated an additional 200 construction workers will be needed here during the next two months to complete homes now being planned. The total includes 100 carpenters, 75 laborers and 25 bricklayers.
